CATHOLIC EDUCATION

Declaration Adopted by the Association of Catholic Colleges.

IN NATIONAL CONFERENCE

Protest Against "Unfair and Unjust Discriminations Resulting From Educational Legislation."

Chicago, April 12.—A declaration of the Catholic position on education in the United States was adopted today at the closing session of the national conference of the Association of Catholic colleges. The resolutions comprising the declaration received the unanimous assent of the representatives of the 70 different colleges—practically the entire collegiate system of the Catholic church in America. The declaration follows:

"First. That this association of Catholic colleges request its president, Rt. Rev. Thomas J. Conaty, respectfully to call the attention of the bishops of the United States at the annual meeting to the work of this conference in regard to our collegiate institutions, especially to the importance of the high school movement.

"Second. That the tendency of educational legislation forces us to warn our Catholic people of the systematic and well defined effort in certain quarters to abolish state control in education, thereby threatening and crippling all private educational effort, thus depriving a large class of the citizens of the liberty of maintaining schools in which their religion shall be made an essential element.

"Third. That we remind legislators of the rights of conscience guaranteed to us by our American citizenship, and call their attention to the system of schools which our people have maintained at great expenses and sacrifice.

"Fourth. That we protest against the unfair and unjust discriminations resulting from much of the educational legislation and we appeal to the fair-mindedness and sense of justice of the American people to protect us from such illiberality.

"Fifth. That this conference of Catholic colleges convinces us that we are justified in asserting that our college system deserves the generous co-operation of all interested in higher Catholic education; and we pledge ourselves to use every effort to perfect still more our collegiate conditions.

"Sixth. That we call upon all Catholics to recognize the imperative need of a more perfect organization of our educational system, and we assure them that with a fuller development of the Catholic high school we shall have a complete system with its headship in the university, and thus we shall continue to maintain a high collegiate standard."

Words of cheer from across the sea were received by the conference in the form of a cablegram of congratulation from Pope Leo XIII. at Rome. The message read as follows:

"Rome, April 12.

"Mgr. Thomas J. Conaty,

"President of the Conference of Catholic Colleges.

"The holy father thanks you for the good wishes expressed by you in the name of the conference of the Catholic colleges and bestows most heartily the apostolic benediction.

"Cardinal Rampolla."

The cablegram was in answer to a message which the convention sent to the pope when it convened. These officers were chosen:

President, Dr. Conaty; secretary and treasurer, Rev. John Conway, Gonzaga college, Washington, D. C.

It was decided to hold the next conference in Chicago on the first Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday after July 4, 1902.

TWO MEN KILLED IN FIGHT WITH DESPERADOES

Whitesburg, Ky., April 12.—Two men were killed and two wounded in a fight between Sheriff John W. Wright and his deputies on one side and desperadoes who robbed and murdered Mrs. J. Hall and her son. The fight occurred on the mountain top between Boone's Fork and Millstone creek. Wright and his posse started out several months ago to capture the gang who cruelly tortured the aged widow and after securing her money murdered her and her son and burned her body in the house in which she lived.

Yesterday John and Morgan Reynolds, Isaac and Creed Porter and George Newsome were located by the posse in a recess on top of the mountain. Morgan Reynolds, Newsome and Isaac Porter went away and while they were gone the officers, ten in number, opened fire on Creed, Porter and John Reynolds. The desperadoes replied with rifles and revolvers, and more than 300 shots were exchanged. John Reynolds received a serious if not fatal wound in the left shoulder and retreated, leaving Porter alone. The latter's ammunition soon gave out and he, too, fled. Of the posse Willie Wright, aged 18, was killed by a steel bullet, which passed through his abdomen, and Isaac Millard, aged 21, was shot through the heart. A third man, named Osborne, was struck in the right leg and severely hurt.

Young Wright, who was killed in the first fire, joined the posse about a month ago to avenge the murder of his father, W. S. Wright, whom the gang assassinated about a year ago. The firing was heard for a distance of thirteen miles. It was at first heard that the posse had been defeated and Governor Beckham was telegraphed to send troops to capture the gang.

BAD QUARTER OF AN HOUR FOR PRINT PAPER TRUST

Washington, April 12. The manufacture of the news print paper of the country was the subject of inquiry on the part of the industrial commission today, John Norris, business manager of the New York Times being the witness. Mr. Norris devoted his attention especially to the International Paper company.

"I will assert," he said, "that the international company has failed in every expectation it held out to the newspapers and to the public. The cost of manufacture is greater under consolidation than under individual ownership of the paper mills. The economies which were to be obtained under the consolidated management have not been realized. The export trade has fallen off or at least has not increased, though that was to be the strong feature of the consolidated companies' efforts. The promised policy of enlightened self interest has been abandoned, and the net result to newspaper publishers has been an increase of over $1,000,000 per annum, in the cost of news print paper."

He placed the output of news print paper at $26,000,000 per year.

Mr. Norris said the president of the consolidation is paid $50,000 a year, and manufacturers' salaries were increased from $7,500 to $15,000. There also has been, in addition to the spruce lands owned by the company, the area secured in the United States bringing the aggregate up to 1,600 square miles, while 600 square miles of land are controlled in Canada. There had likewise been an increase in freight charges. All told, he placed the enhancement of the cost price of producing paper at $3 per ton. He knew of two newspapers which were paying an increase of $150,000 annually on the paper used by them. Mr. Norris gave the daily output of news print paper at 2,055 tons, of which the International company furnished 1,200 tons, while the mills of the company have a capacity of 1,576 tons per day, and said that there was a constant increase of producing capacity outside that company notwithstanding the boast of the International company that it owned all paper water powers and all available spruce lands.

Mr. Norris attributed the recent increase in the price of paper to four causes, namely, to the Spanish war, the South African war, the drought of 1899 and 1900, and the attempt of the International company to monopolize the spruce land. To meet the last difficulty he suggested that trade relations with Canada should be promoted in order that the practically inexhaustible pulp supply of that country might be drawn upon.

"We should," he said, "adopt the plan which President McKinley has advocated of remitting those taxes which experience has shown to be most burdensome to the industries of the people." He asserted that the International company had opposed Canadian reciprocity and that the result had been Canadian reprisals. He advocated the removal of the tariff on wood pulp as in the interest of all classes.

PORTION OF THE CITY OF BUTTE IS SLIDING

Butte, Mont., April 12.—A portion of Butte is moving to embrace the larger part of the big hill on which some of the Anaconda mines are located, has made a very perceptible movement southward during the past few days.

At the foot of Anaconda hill the slide has pushed the tracks of the street railway out six inches for a distance of about a block along the road. As there are no buildings in that part of the city damage was done except to the railroad tracks and but for their presence the slide would not have been noticed. Geologists and scientific men say that the entire range of hills about Butte is constantly moving, that the sliding process is now going on for years and has caused mixed copper veins in the Butte district and many of them, is still going on. A year ago a similar slide occurred in the western part of the city, but in the heart of the residence district. The county courthouse, the handsome residence of Senator W. A. Clark, several churches and other buildings were seriously cracked, the residence of Senator Clark having a fissure about two inches wide through the entire building from east to west, and the street car tracks in several places were humped up by the sliding movement. The statement is made by a well-known mining man that the collar shaft of the Green Mountain mine, one of the Anaconda properties, has moved in 10 years about six feet.

The strange phenomenon is regarded with interest by scientific men, but no danger is ever apprehended from it.

Dry Goods Trust.

New York, April 12.—Announcement is made that the underwriting syndicate of the Associated Merchants' association has many times over-subscribed the issue of $5,000,000 first preferred stock offered to the public. There are unconfirmed reports that the Associated Merchants' company is negotiating for the control of a number of other stores in Greater New York besides those originally mentioned in the connection.

DIFFERENCE IN RIPLEY CASE

Will Move for Peremptory Instructions for Verdict of Acquittal.

PROSECUTION SAYS IN VAIN

Lawyers on That Side Declare That Evidence of Bradley and Yost Precludes Peremptory Instructions.

Frankfort, Ky., April 12.—The prosecution will conclude its testimony in the Ripley case tomorrow. The defense will move for peremptory instructions for a verdict of acquittal. Lawyers for the prosecution do not believe this will be sustained in view of the ruling of the court permitting the introduction of evidence as to the conspiracy. They assert that the evidence of ex-Governor Bradley and Judge Yost connects Ripley in a way to preclude peremptory instructions.

O. L. Oster, freight agent at Eminence identified a paper signed by Ripley acknowledging the receipt of freight, which consisted of guns, cartridges, etc. The bill of lading was dated January 30, which was the same day of the assassination but it indicated that the freight was shipped the day before.

George Lockard, of Knox county, testified that he spent January, 1899, in Frankfort. Caleb Powers had told him that he wanted him here and had provided him with three pistols. Powers had told him to stay about the state house as he might be needed.

Sheriff Suter told of his efforts to enter the executive building after the shooting and of being repulsed by armed guards. Eramus Ditto, who lives in Ripley's neighborhood, testified to having a conversation with Ripley during the contest over the governorship. Witness asked Ripley if he thought Goebel would be declared governor. Ripley responded:

"If he is, he will never take his seat."

George Barnes, a clerk in the office of Auditor Sweeney saw Dr. Johnson, of Jackson county, come into the office and hold a conference with Henry Youtsey. Youtsey gave him a box of some kind and Johnson said: "The cartridges go with the gun, don't they?"

Youtsey replied that they did.

Ex-Treasurer Walter Day repeated the testimony which he gave in the Youtsey case in regard to Youtsey coming to him and telling him that for $300 he would bring the contest to an end. Day wanted to know more about it, but Youtsey said: "Never mind about that; I will settle it."

Day did not know exactly what Youtsey meant, but refused to treat with him, as he had his suspicions. He also saw Youtsey in Powers' office with a gun on January 28.

Wade Watts, a colored porter, told of hearing representativ Lilly say that a signal shot would be fired in the legislative hall. This would excite the Democrats and the Republicans could shoot them as they rose which they undoubtedly would do, not knowing what it was for. He saw Youtsey as he ran out of the basement of the executive building at the time of the shooting. Youtsey did not stop, but said in passing: "It's all up now," or something like that.

Dudley Williamson, of the Frankfort military company, which was on duty in the arsenal, said the soldiers were lined up and in readiness for marching two hours before the assassination. They did not get to the state house for an hour after the shooting.

John Ricketts said he talked with Youtsey on numerous occasions. Youtsey told him the only way to win the contest was to put Goebel out of the way, and said it could be done from the secretary of state's office and the assassin could escape through the basement and not be discovered. A few minutes before the assassination Youtsey called on him and others to accompany him to the executive buildings and said that something was going to happen. Witness remembered what Youtsey said about putting Goebel out of the way and did not go.

THE CABINET DISCUSSED NEUTRALITY PROCEEDINGS

Washington, April 12. The legal proceedings at New Orleans to prevent the shipment of mules purchased in this country to South Africa was the most important matter discussed by the cabinet meeting today and the attorney general was directed to make an investigation of the question and report his opinion to the cabinet.

As near as can be learned members of the cabinet with legal training are of the opinion that these proceedings are contrary to the rights of the government. The view expressed is that when neutrality proceedings are inaugurated in United States courts they should be brought in the name of the United States, as alleged violation of neutrality being a question affecting nations, not individuals. The mover in the proceedings in the New Orleans case is a man claiming to be a resident of South Africa, who contends that his interests are placed in jeopardy.

It is pointed out that if an individual could go into the courts and secure restraining orders on the ground that the neutrality laws of the country were being violated the commerce of the country might be seriously endangered.

These views of the New Orleans proceedings were elicited during a brief suggestion with reference to the statement that the British government had decided to use no more American meat in its army. No official information exists concerning this report. Attorney General Knox will make a thorough investigation of the New Orleans case. If it is found that the neutrality laws are such as to permit individuals to bring proceedings in courts, congress may be asked to pass such amendments as will leave these questions wholly in the hands of the government.

The president submitted to the cabinet a very gratifying cablegram from Secretary Hunt of Puerto Rico, expressing the satisfaction with which the news of Governor Allen's continuance at the head of the government had been received there. The cable also denied emphatically the reports of dissatisfaction, discontent and destitution in the island.

Declared Invalid.

St. Louis, Mo., April 12.—"A legislature cannot make a private purpose a public purpose by its fiat," is one of the main points in an opinion handed down by the United States court of appeals. The case was that of W. S. Dodge against the township of Mission, Shawnee county, Kansas, appealed from the United States district court of Kansas by Dodge. The action was originally brought by him on 359 coupons cut from twenty-two township bonds issued under an act of the Kansas legislature to encourage the erection of mills and the manufacture of sugar and syrup out of sorghum cane and authorizing townships and cities of the second and third class to subscribe for stock in such sugar factories and to vote bonds for this purpose. Under the act every company receiving the benefit of the bonds was required to retain ten cents from the purchase price of every ton of cane, and pay it over to the treasurer of the township, to be applied in the payment of these bonds. The act declared that all mills receiving such aid were public mills and should manufacture the sugar or syrup for customers who furnished cane, and that they might charge toll for this manufacture. Under this act the township of Mission issued thirty bonds of $500 each on September 15, 1900. Of these Dodge bought twenty-two and payment was refused on the coupons. He brought suit, and to his allegations a demurrer was filed and sustained, that they were insufficient in law to uphold his case.

The appellate court affirmed this decision, and in the opinion said: "The promotion of the construction and operation of mills and factories to manufacture sorghum cane sugar and syrup is the private and not a public purpose. The power of the legislature to levy or authorize the levy of a tax and to create or authorize the creation of a public debt to be paid by taxation is limited to its exercise for a public purpose. Township bonds issued for this purpose and the act of March 1, 1889, authorizing their issue are beyond the power of the legislature and the township and are void."

DEATH OF CANNON

Monterey, Cal., April 12.—George Q. Cannon is dead. The end came early this morning. The patient breathed his last without a struggle. He slept considerably yesterday and the fore part of last night. A bulletin was issued about midnight stating that he rested easy, and the change for the worst came apparently without forewarning. His body was shipped to San Francisco this morning to be embalmed and reshipped to Salt Lake City, where the interment will take place. Deceased was about 75 years of age.

Attacked By a Tiger.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—Frank C. Bostock, proprietor of the "zoo" in this city, was today attacked and dangerously injured by the tiger Rajah, which a few days ago tore an employe of the "zoo" to pieces. The animals have been undergoing a course of training for the Buffalo exposition and Mr. Bostock came here from Baltimore to direct the work. Today he took the tiger into the arena to put him through some of his tricks. Rajah was known to be very vicious. Bostock wore a heavy wire mask over his head and neck and carried a revolver and club. The animal was cowed into subjection while in the arena and was finally released and started toward his cage, the route being a winding passageway that extended from the arena back to the rear of the cages. While Bostock and the tiger were in this narrow passageway the animal suddenly jumped for Bostock and sunk his fangs into the trainer's left arm. The force of the blow threw Bostock to the floor. Then the tiger tore at the mask, his teeth going through and tearing Bostock's face in a terrible manner. He was unable to use his revolver and shouted for help. Capt. Bonavita, another trainer, rushed to Bostock's assistance and drove the tiger into the cage.

Bostock's right foot and leg are badly injured, and he may lose his left arm.

Beaumont Oil Companies.

Austin, Tex., April 12.—Charters were today filed by nine new oil companies, incorporated to develop the Beaumont field. They have an aggregate capital of $1,875,000. This makes a total of eighty-nine companies organized for the Beaumont field, with a capitalization in excess of $20,000,000.

Late this afternoon the National Oil and Pipe Line company, filed its charter with a capital of $5,000,000. This is the largest charter ever filed in Texas. The state's fee was $2,250. This company recently purchased a gusher and leases on 150,000 acres of land.

Canning Plant Burned.

Oakland, Cal., April 12.—Hunt Brothers company's canning plant at Haywards was totally destroyed by fire today. The company's boarding house and 65 cottages, 75 of which were owned by the company, the plant, fruit warehouse and 2,000 cases of fruit were destroyed. Six fruit cars were also consumed. Many families were rendered homeless. The loss will exceed $125,000. The fire is believed to have been incendiary. The factory was being put in shape for the fruit canning season, opening May 1. It was intended to employ 1,500 persons.

FILIPINO DICTATOR

Paris, April 12. Agoncillo, the agent of Aguinaldo in Paris, received a cablegram this morning announcing that the Filipino general Sandico had been elected to succeed Aguinaldo as commanding general of the Filipino forces, as well as dictator during the progress of the insurrection.

Sandico belongs to a distinguished family at Pandakan, near Manila. He is a man of energy, and is well educated, speaking several European languages.

As announced by the Associated Press, April 8, in a dispatch from Manila, General Sandico surrendered to the American authorities at Cabanatuan, island of Luzon. It was added that Sandico has a bad record and may be tried.

A COLONY OF LEPERS ON CANARY ISLANDS

Washington, April 12.—The existence of about 200 lepers on the island of Teneriffe, Canary Islands, has been officially reported here by United States Consul Berliner, at Teneriffe. He says there are three distinct classes of leprosy on Teneriffe island, namely lepra arabum, lepra elephantiasis and lepra tuberculosis. The disease diverges into two main varieties, the spotted and the nodular.

The report is based on personal investigation and assistance of physicians, and says:

"Leprosy is somewhat epidemic among people here, on account of their eating a good deal of fish, often putrid and their general uncleanliness.

"As being contagious it is generally discredited here, but in my opinion it is very infectious. In former years the government had established a colony for lepers at Grand Canay. They were housed there but had perfect liberty to wander about with the restriction that they must sleep at the houses built for them. In course of time this law became a dead letter and gradually they spread over the different islands.

"At Santa Cruz de Teneriffe, the capital, there are twenty-two lepers, fifteen of whom are men, and there also are some children of these unfortunates. They are given a place about fifteen minutes from the city hall, where they live, which is called Barranco Santo. There are also living at the same place about 200 people besides, nearly all beggars. You meet them at all times of day in town or road, asking alms and exposing their limbs. Many have no fingers or toes and they hobble along, and a more pitiable sight is hard to imagine.

"Officially it is not recognized that leprosy exists on these islands.

"The provincial government at Teneriffe has lately built a large building about two miles out of town. The building has two separate wings, one for insane patients and the other for lepers."

United States Consular Agent Swanston, on Grand Canary island, in an accompanying report says that leprosy there is decidedly decreasing. There are fifty patients in the leper hospitals at Las Palmas. A few families infected with the disease, live in their own houses.

Chicago & Northwestern.

New York, April 12.—The Commercial Advertiser says:

Some of the largest stockholding interests in the Chicago & Northwestern railroad declare that the rumors of a pending deal affecting that property are without foundation.

While it may be true that there is no Chicago & Northwestern deal under way, indications point to closer relations between that road and the Union Pacific. The Vanderbilts are the dominant power in Chicago & Northwestern, and they are also influential in the Union Pacific management. In view of James J. Hill's Northern Pacific-Burlington-Erie combination, it is only natural, western railroad men say, that the owners of the Chicago & Northwestern should take measures to protect that company's interests.

THE BRITISH INDEMNITY

Government Believes Little Can Be Gained by Insisting on Cash.

ALTERNATE DEMAND URGED

Greater Trading Privileges Will Result in Larger Benefit Than Lump Sums of Money.

London, April 12.—Great Britain has not yet definitely estimated the money indemnity she desires China to pay. A representative of the Associated Press is informed that the government adheres to the belief that little can be gained by insisting upon cash payments from China, and, though the government regrets that this will possibly be a cause for delay, it continues to instruct the British minister to China, Sir Ernest Satow, to try to induce the powers to agree to a demand for greater trading privileges instead of money. The government is of the opinion that the opening of those rich provinces hitherto closed to foreign commerce will result in much greater benefit to the nations concerned and to China herself, than the extraction of lump sums of money.

"The viceroy of Nan-king has received a letter from the British government," says the Shang-hai correspondent of the Times, "congratulating him upon the success of the opposition to the Manchurian convention."

The Times commenting editorially upon its Shang-hai dispatch, says:

"No doubt a similar letter was sent to the viceroy of Woo-chang. It is a gratifying sign that the British government is alive to the actual facts of the situation and knows to what quarter it can effectively turn for support in combating Russia's designs."

RECEPTION OF THE DUKE AND DUCHESS IN CEYLON

Colombo, Ceylon, April 12.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York landed here this afternoon and were accorded an enthusiastic reception. The streets, which were elaborately decorated were filled with thousands of natives in multi-colored costumes.

While the receptions were in progress a windstorm swept over Colombo and a number of natives were injured near the royal pavilion.

Kandy, Ceylon, April 12. Later in the evening the duke and duchess of Cornwall and York came to Kandy, the ancient capital of the kingdom. They were cheered by groups of natives at each stopping place on the railroad from Colombo. The scenery along the route is magnificent. This and the groups of natives in their strange costumes constituted a wonderful spectacle, from the point of view of the picturesque, probably the most interesting of the whole tour. When their royal highnesses were leaving Colombo groups representing the ancient kings and queens of Kandy, and devil dancers in quaint costumes and hideous masks were drawn up on the platform. After dinner the duke and duchess witnessed from a balcony of the governor's residence a gorgeous procession of elephants, swarms of natives bearing torches, chiefs resplendent in gold brocaded costumes, buddhists bearing banners and blazing braziers, dancers and musicians playing tom-toms and pipes. It was a wonderful scene, lasting an hour.

The finest elephant in the stud, an animal usually reserved for religious festivities, was included in the procession. Its gold sheathed tusks were hung with rich gold embroidered trappings, and it carried a magnificent howdah.

Miller, chaplain, U. S. A.

After tonight's reception the speakers and guests at the meeting were tendered a reception by the ladies reception committee and the members of the academy.

British Beef.

London, April 12. The British war office confirms the report that it is going to try the experiment of supplying the army with only home-grown beef. The experiment will extend six months from June 1.

The director of contracts, a major, said to a representative of the Associated Press:

"The new rule applies only to refrigerated beef hitherto bought in the open market in London. It will not seriously affect the American trade, as the total weekly supply for the army is only about 20,000 pounds, which is barely 3 per cent. of the weekly imports of refrigerated beef into England from the United States. Mr. Broderick's action was taken long before the New Orleans proceedings. It is quite absurd to suppose that any idea of retaliation prompted the order, which was due to a natural desire to help some of the home industries. The difference in price is very trifling and we are making this up by giving Tommy Atkins frozen mutton two days instead of one day weekly. If the plan is satisfactory our supply problem will be greatly simplified, for we often have complaints and disagreements over refrigerated beef. You must not suppose that we now use no home-grown beef. We have hitherto used refrigerated beef as an addition to our rations, rather than as an integral part. We have no prejudice against American firms and we do not believe they will miss this trade to any extent, even if it is decided to continue the experiment."

Killed by Robbers.

Wichita, Kas., April 12.—A dispatch received here late tonight from ElReno, O. T., says that four men have been arrested for the murder of T. H. Pemberton near Weatherford last night, and that a lynching is expected before morning as the citizens are wildly excited. Earlier in the night a report came to El Reno that the lynching had taken place, but it has since been denied. The remains of Mr. Pemberton arrived tonight at El Reno and will be shipped to Glagow, Ky., in the morning. The real names of the men arrested are not known. The purpose of the murder was robbery.

Weatherford, O. T., April 12.—Thomas H. Pemberton, aged 65 years, was killed at midnight last night and tonight six suspects were arrested and will be held for investigation. Their names are E. J. Welch, Thomas McCormick, Charles Reed, Charles Chapman, J. A. Welch and J. S. Bowyer.

Pemberton, who came here six weeks ago from Glasgow, Ky., where his family resides was assaulted by some one who struck him across the head twice with a heavy club. The coroner's inquest is in progress tonight and if the guilty person is found he will be lynched.

German Industries.

Berlin, April 12.—A recent article in the Berliner Tageblatt takes a gloomy view of the industrial conditions in Germany, which it says are so bad that the efforts of the charitable are powerless to cope with the situation. Reduced production and the consequent dismissal of working people are so general as to no longer attract notice.

It is safe to say that a quarter of the working people are either idle or insufficiently employed. There is little prospect of an improvement in the situation. The situation is made more serious by the uncertainty of Germany's commercial policy. The numberless industries of the country do not know whether disastrous tariff wars will not destroy the work of years. The uncertainty of Germany's vacillating trade policy drives German capital and intelligence to found large industrial undertakings abroad and hinders business relations with foreign countries. Prices are so depressed in Silescia that even the iron works there, which possess their own coal mines and furnaces, cannot cover operating expenses. The tin plate and tube manufactories, plants for the manufacture of electric supplies and the textile industries are in a similar plight.

Many factories have closed and in others the hours of labor have been reduced, while work folk crowd to the gates of the factories seeking employment. The wealthy classes feel the pressure of those conditions proportionately with the working and professional classes.

MRS. WILLIAM R. DAY IS SERIOUSLY ILL

Canton, O., April 12.—Mrs. William R. Day was suddenly stricken with serious illness this afternoon, following an attack of sick headache. The former secretary of state had been in Cincinnati during the day, sitting in the United States circuit court, but had started for Washington before he could be reached with a message calling him home. Mrs. Day has been unconscious since 3 o'clock this afternoon.

AGAINST AMENDMENT

Havana, April 12. The Cuban constitutional convention placed itself on record today against the Platt amendment by a vote of 18 to 10 on a resolution that the convention should declare itself opposed to the amendment, "on account of the terms of some clauses and the way in which they are drawn, and also on the contents of the others especially clauses III., VI. and VII."

The Conservatives assert that this action is embarrassing, inasmuch as it practically ties the hands of any commission that might be sent to Washington.

NEWS TOPICS FROM DENVER

After the Storm--John Leydon Chief Detective---Irrigation Superintendent Appointed.

Denver Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Denver, April 12.—After ninety-six hours of continual storm the sun has at last consented to present itself and Colorado is once more enjoying balmy weather over head. But a look at the ground recalls most vividly the scenes of the past few days. In accordance with the directions of the weather man the sun rose clear and bright over the city this morning, and continued to shine during the day. The warmth of the rays soon began to tell upon the snow, and by 9:30 the streets and alleys were small sized rivers of slush and mud. Outside of the paved sections of the city today was far worse for traveling than yesterday because of the slush. The appearance of the paved portions spoke volumes of praise for the new Republican administration. Hardly had the snow ceased falling last night before Mayor Wright ordered out an extra large force of men to shovel and clear away snow and by noon today the down-town streets were in fairly good shape. Business men, who are accustomed to coming down town upon such occasions dressed for a sloppy day, were agreeably surprised to find that the snow had been hauled away. The Tramway company kept its sweepers and snow plows at work until the storm abated last night and this morning its cars were moving practically on time. The only inconvenience was occasioned by soft road beds of some of the suburban lines. The telephone and electric light companies kept their lines in perfect order during the entire storm, which is something that has never been accomplished before. At the depot the boards continued to show late trains until about the middle of the afternoon. This was occasioned by drifts, snow slides, small wrecks and soft tracks. Mountain trains due here between 6 and 10 o'clock last evening came in between 2 and 6 o'clock this morning. Prairie lines were from one-half to three hours late, caused entirely by soft track. This evening the larger number of the trains are practically on time and it is said that by tomorrow the regular schedule will be maintained.

Reports from over the state indicate that the weather during the entire day has been warm and balmy. This gives rise to the natural fear of snow slides. The reports of the slides on the Florence and Cripple Creek railway and on Italian mountain near Buena Vista sent a thrill of anxiety through the residents of Denver, that will only abate when the spring thaws are over. A feeling of relief is expressed by the stockmen of the state, because, instead of turning cold as was anticipated, the weather turned out warm this morning, which will rapidly melt the snow and thus save thousands of head of stock from perishing, as had been feared. The storm has been of the longest duration that has visited Colorado in the last ten years. Reports from Boulder state that the Colorado and Northwestern railway has succeeded in opening its line to Ward, and that trains are running on practically schedule time. Other cities throughout the state that reported such doleful prospects yesterday send in reports today to the effect that the worst is over and that instead of bringing havoc, as had been expected, the storm will prove a blessing for the entire state.

Chief of Police Armstrong entered upon his new duties this morning. His first act was to appoint John Leydon, temporary chief of detectives, until the board elects a successor to Mr. Armstrong.

Mayor Wright issued a statement this morning to the effect that no more applications for positions would be received after noon today. He says that he only has a few over thirty appointments to make and as he has received over 600 applications he feels that he can select thirty good men out of this number.

The jury in the Cole and Bowers abduction case at Akron, Colo., have returned a verdict acquitting Cole. The jury was out twenty-four hours.

Fowler, Colo., is experiencing some trouble because they did not understand a law passed by the recent legislature. In their election last week a number of the city councilmen were elected for a term of three years, while the law states that two years is the limit. The difficulty will be overcome by the three year men resigning and the remaining members will re-elect them for two years.

Daniel Prescott, one of the leading attorneys of the city, is seriously ill at his home, 1577 Clarkson street. He is troubled with a severe case of pneumonia. He was at one time district attorney, and at the present time he is deputy city attorney.

W. W. Cooke, known as the pioneer lawyer of this city, died at the residence of his former wife, 1826 Race street, this morning of pneumonia. He was taken ill ten days ago and was without means so his wife, from whom he was divorced, had him taken to her home and cared for him until the end.

Governor Orman today made the following appointments. Irrigation superintendents: district 1, James J. Armstrong, of Weld county; district 2, E. R. Chew, Pueblo county; district 3, Westley Staley, Rio Grande county; district 4, [illegible] Senate, La Plata county; district 5, A. [illegible] Rice, Montrose county; district 6, Peter F. Rinehardt, Steamboat Springs. The superintendents of irrigation receive a salary of $5 per day and expenses when actually employed. J. E. Field is appointed deputy state engineer with a salary of $1,200 per year.

If the city council accepts the proposition of the Tramway company, and no doubt it will, Broadway will present a much finer appearance by fall than it now does. The Tramway company has offered to grade the street if the council will grant it the privilege of placing its tracks in the middle of the street instead of at one side as they are now. The company will raise the grade three feet in the depressions at Sixth and Fourth avenues and will level it from Third avenue to Dakota street, a distance of one mile. It will also crown the street from Ninth avenue to Dakota street. When this is completed the old zig-zag appearance of Broadway below the asphalt will be gone and the Tramway tracks will be equal to those on East Colfax avenue.

The Republican board of supervisors held its first meeting last night and adopted resolutions requesting that the fire and police board enforce all laws of the state and city against gambling, prize fighting, unlawful traffic in the sale of liquor and the curfew ordinances. The board of aldermen met and elected Alderman Adamson president.

The county clerk has issued a marriage license to Fred Sienon and Helen Walton, both from Colorado Springs.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Gregory has been appointed warden of the county jail to succeed Sidney McDumott.

A report from Ward states that Perry Teters of that city attempted to commit suicide by freezing himself to death. As a result he failed to die, but both feet were so badly frozen that they had to be amputated. He made the attempt by loading up on whisky and laudanum and lying down in the snow to die. Friends spoiled his departure.

Denver is experiencing a relief from thugism just now that is very gratifying. The reason given is because of the fact of the election fraud investigation. During the past week there has been a decided thinning out of bums in the lower portion of the city. Another reason given for the absence of crime is the [illegible] of the double light system. Every corner has two large arc lights burning and will continue to have them until the question as to which company has the legal right to light the city is settled.

SCIENTIFIC FOOD.

Mothers Feel a Responsibility in Selecting Food.

If children are not healthy, round and rosy, ready for study or play, there is probably something lacking in the food.

A sure body builder for children, (or adults) is Grape-Nuts, the famous ready-cooked food, and there is a reason.

Grape-Nuts contain natural phosphate of potash and albumen obtained from grains, and these elements combine in the human body to form gray matter in brain and nerve cells all over the body. Such nourishment means vigor and strength and force of both mind and body.

That is scientific feeding, and with Grape-Nuts you have the youngsters fed in a way that will bring the biggest kind of returns as they grow up and you see what they accomplish because they have well fed bodies and good sturdy brains.

This is worth thinking about and the results may be depended upon. Give your children Grape-Nuts and use the food yourself.

THE NEWS OF CRIPPLE CREEK

William Crasner Injured in Street Row--Harper Given a Verdict of $5,500.

Cripple Creek Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Cripple Creek, April 12.—William Crasner, a miner, formerly employed at the Eagle mine, was dangerously wounded in a street row early this morning. He received a dangerous knife cut across the right side of his neck in a cutting affray that took place at 5 o'clock in front of the Bijou saloon on Myers avenue. Crasner refuses to make any statement concerning the affair. A few minutes after the fight officers arrested L. A. Holliday, Ed. Cook, C. E. Ward, William Hightower and R. T. Armstrong, one of whom is thought to have stabbed Crasner. All the men are under 30 years of age and all are single. The trouble seems to have been over a woman. The men had been out all night drinking heavily and in the Abbey saloon two of the number started a quarrel with a woman. Crasner took sides with the woman and after some bitter words the party separated. Later they met in front of the Bijou, where words led to blows, and one of the men drew a knife and slashed Crasner. The cut is fully five inches long and from an inch to an inch and a quarter in depth. Crasner displayed wonderful nerve after being wounded. The wound bled freely, but in company with a friend he started out to find a doctor. He walked to the Antlers saloon, leaving a trail of blood behind him on the snow. Doctors were quickly summoned and the wound was dressed and sewed up by Dr. Crane, assisted by the other physicians. Crasner was then taken to the hospital, where he is reported resting easily tonight with a chance to recover.

Today was very pleasant over head, but the melting snow made it very disagreeable under foot. Suburban traffic has been resumed on all the roads of the camp. The F. & C. C. through train service was at a standstill all day, caused by the rock slide near Adelaide. The train due here yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock has not yet arrived, but a report from the depot is in effect that it will be in before 11 o'clock. A freight wreck at Woodland Park on the Colorado Midland road and several box cars off the track at Gillett delayed the morning Midland Terminal train about five hours. The trains on this road are now running on time.

The C. S. & C. C. D. train from Colorado Springs was stuck in a drift at Summit during the day, but the road is now open from Cripple Creek to Colorado Springs, and this train will arrive about 10:15 o'clock tonight. The management states that all trains will be running on time tomorrow.

F. T. Caley commenced action in the district court today to recover $829 damages for cattle killed by trains on Sept. 24, 1900, and Oct. 3, 1900. The suit for $10,300 damages, entitled Harper vs. Tanner, went to the jury in the district court today. The plaintiff was given damages in the sum of $5,500. The suit grew out of injuries sustained by Harper while he was employed in the Tanner workings of the Mary McKinney property. A car fell down a winze striking Harper upon the right shoulder, permanently injuring his right arm.

The case of the people vs. Mrs. Mary E. Barry was called for trial in the district court today. The defendant is charged with taking unlawful possession of a house and furnishings belonging to W. H. Kellen of Victor. The district attorney asked for a continuance so that he could correct his information. The case will come up for trial later in the month.

NEWS NOTES FROM PUEBLO

Close of the G. A. R. Encampment --C. E. Bunch Injured While Cleaning a Rifle.

Pueblo Bureau
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Pueblo, April 12.—The twenty-second annual encampment of the department of Colorado and Wyoming G. A. R. closed today. This morning a public and joint installation of the officers elected by the various organizations was held in Board of Trade hall in the presence of a large crowd. Officers of the G. A. R. were installed by Commander-in-Chief General Leo Rassieur, while the department heads of the other organizations performed the ceremonies by their respective orders. The new officers of the W. R. corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., and the Sons of Veterans and the Ladies' Aid Society of the Sons of Veterans were inducted into office. They were the same as published in the Gazette this morning. The retiring department commander, Gen. Harper M. Orahood, was given a pleasant surprise, being presented with a handsome gold badge. The presentation speech was made by Assistant Quartermaster General Marshall S. Crawford of Denver. General Orahood made a brief address of thanks.

The new department commander, L. E. Sherman of Colorado Springs, announced the following appointments today: Assistant adjutant general, D. W. Robbins of Colorado Springs; assistant quartermaster general, Marshall S. Crawford of Denver, reappointed.

Tonight Butler post of Pueblo gave a camp fire at which they entertained a number of the delegates who remained in the city. All in all, the encampment has been one of the most successful ever held by the department, and despite the disagreeable weather that characterized their stay, the old veterans leave with many pleasant memories of Pueblo.

Mayor West today signed the ordinance recently passed by the city council which gives the Santa Fe railway right-of-way over certain streets in the northwest portion of the city. It is understood that the railroad company will at once commence making the improvement, which has been dependent upon the securing of the right-of-way, and will build the cut-off, which will save it several miles on its main line and do away with a long up-hill pull.

Colored Democrats of Pueblo held a meeting tonight and made recommendations to Mayor West for appointments to city positions. O. L. Boyd is recommended for police operator; R. H. Thomas and J. D. Johnson for police officers, while seven other persons, all colored, are recommended for places as janitors and in the street commissioner's department. A resolution was adopted protesting against the appointment of any colored person who did not support the Democratic ticket this spring and who are not educationally qualified to hold city positions.

C. E. Burch, a well-known young man, seriously wounded himself last night with a 22-caliber rifle. He was cleaning the gun in his room and laid it across the bed while he stepped aside to procure cleaning material. In picking up the rifle he grasped it by the barrel and started to pull it toward him. The hammer caught in the bed clothing and the gun was discharged. The bullet struck Burch in the right side and passed almost through the body. He has an even chance for recovery.

"La Feista" was repeated tonight, by request, at the Grand Opera house with the same cast which produced it under the auspices of the Rover club some time ago. While the audience was small the performance passed off very creditably.

The remains of Mrs. Mary E. Bartholomew, formerly Miss Stanchfield, who died at La Junta, were brought to Pueblo today and were interred in River View cemetery. A large number of friends of the deceased followed the remains to their last resting place.

It is said that an effort is being made to secure school teachers for the Philippines, and circulars have been received in Pueblo setting forth the advantages of the offer. Seventy dollars per month and transportation to the islands seem to be the principal allurements.

The Nuckolls Packing company filed suit in the district court today against H. Halthusen for $58,447, which sum the plaintiffs allege is due them by the stipulations of a contract. The company alleges that the defendant agreed to purchase a number of hides and pelts from the company, but failed to live up to his contract, causing the company financial loss in the amount stated.

Nellie Felter of Canon City, the 10-year-old girl who was injured yesterday in the head-end collision at Eden station, is resting easily at the Sisters' hospital, and there is no doubt as to her recovery. Her mother, Mrs. J. W. Felter, of Canon City, is attending the child.

The funeral of the 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Livingston of Alton, Mo., who lay at the point of death on the Rock Island train, when the wreck occurred and who died shortly after being brought to Pueblo, was held today. The parents resumed their journey to Oregon this evening.

Trains were running on better time today than yesterday, although there was still quite a difference in the time-cards. Tracks were cleared of snow between Pueblo and Denver, but nearly all the trains from the north were somewhat late. The Missouri Pacific passenger from the east was ten hours late.

NEWS NOTES FROM VICTOR

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Case of the Granite Mine Dump Accident.

Victor Bureau.
Colorado Springs Gazette.

Victor, April 12.—Coroner T. F. Dunn today impaneled a jury and held on inquest over the remains of the six members of the Smith family who were killed on Tuesday by the giving away of the Granite mine dump cribbing. The coroner went over the scene of the catastrophe with the jury, who, after hearing of the testimony, found: "That James Smith, Susan Smith and their four children, Lizzie, David, Warren and Carrie, while being residents in and on the Monument mining claim in said county and state came to their death on the 9th day of April, 1901 at 4 p. m.; that their deaths were caused by the giving away of the cribbing containing the dump or waste of the Granite mining claim immediately adjoining the said Monument claim; said cribbing of the Granite mining claim, being inadequately built and not of sufficient strength and durability to retain the waste from the mine."

Mike Timmons, foreman; I. R. Griffith, J. L. Le Blanc, F. A. Coady, George F. Rieger and Thomas Short.

Subscription lists to raise funds for the relief of the three surviving members of the Smith family were circulated in this city yesterday and today, under the promotion of Victor business men, and the other in charge of a committee from the B. P. O. Elks. Subscriptions are being freely given for this worthy fund. It is quite likely that the lists will be circulated throughout the district as well as in this city.

Tonight at the Gold Coin club house a large audience enjoyed the concert by the Gold Coin band, assisted by the vocalists of the district. The dance following the musical entertainment was greatly enjoyed.

FATAL STABBING AT GLENWOOD

Walter Phillips Killed by A. R. Moore--Coroner's Jury Says It Was Felonious.

Special to the Gazette.

Glenwood Springs, April 12.—A fatal stabbing affray occurred here today at 4 o'clock a. m., when Walter Phillips, a young man about 25 years old, was fatally stabbed by A. R. Moore in front of the saloon of John H. Campbell on Grand avenue. Moore stabbed Phillips in the right side of his neck severing the jugular vein. Phillips staggered into the saloon and in less than five minutes after the affray expired.

The two had been having some words about Phillips running the partner of Moore, a man named W. H. Ring, out of the saloon the night before, Moore remarking to Phillips that he could not run him out. Phillips, replying, said if he was ordered to do so he would certainly try it.

Both men were ordered out of the saloon by the barkeeper, Mr. Logan, and engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with the result that the killing of Phillips ensued on the sidewalk. Moore was apprehended shortly after the affair at his cabin on Blake avenue and taken to the county jail.

The coroner held an inquest this afternoon at the court house and after the hearing of the testimony the jury returned a verdict that Phillips died from the effects of a wound inflicted by Moore and that the stabbing was felonious. The defendant will have a preliminary examination tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

Phillips was a young man highly esteemed by his associates, was of a kindly disposition, not at all quarrelsome, and his untimely taking off is much lamented. He had no relatives in Glenwood Springs, but had a half-sister residing at Victor. The latter was telegraphed about the occurrence this morning, but replied that she was unable to come here.

Considerable talk has been made in town about lynching the prisoner, but no doubt the law will be allowed to take its course.

Johnson's Boom.

Indianapolis, April 12.—Single Taxers have called a meeting for Thursday night to launch Tom L. Johnson's presidential boom in Indiana.

Cleveland, O., April 12.—When the foregoing dispatch was telephoned to Mr. Johnson at his home, he replied: "I would like to telegraph them not to, I am not a candidate for the presidency."

Counterfeiters' Outfit.

New York, April 12.—Secret service agents today went to the headquarters of the counterfeiters, John A. Skoog and Emil Mobert, in Brooklyn, and found large quantities of English and foreign money which the men used as copies to make counterfeits from. It was reported that from $5,000 to $8,000 in good English money was found, beside about $15,000 of foreign notes. A lot of chemicals, a large camera, a lot of prepared paper with silk fibres running through it, and a milling machine to make $5.00 Indian head bills were also found.

Flood At Wichita.

Wichita, Kan., April 12.—The Arkansas river is out of its banks tonight, policemen are guarding the ends of every bridge to keep people from crossing, two bridges are under water, the approaches to two have been washed away, an island went under water after its inhabitants escaped, and the night force at the waterworks are imprisoned in the middle of nearly a mile of flood. For five days it has been raining continually and hundreds of thousands of acres of farm lands are under water. No fatalities have been reported. The water, which is still rising, is within five inches of the openings to the pump house of the waterworks.

THE ROCK SLIDE NEAR ADELAIDE

Accident on F. & C. C. Much More Serious Than It Was at First Reported to Be.

Special to the Gazette.

Florence, April 12.—The rockslide near Adelaide, which was reported in this morning's Gazette, proved to be more serious than was supposed when the first reports were sent out.

As a result of the slide, which occurred a mile and a half from Adelaide, 20 miles north of here on the F. and C. C. railway, three men lie dead at Delbert's undertaking parlors and four others are seriously injured.

At 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon a small rock slide occurred which was about forty feet long and six feet high. It fell from a high mountain alongside the track where the margin between the track and the side of the cut is very narrow. The company at once summoned every available man to the scene and had them clear the road. About a dozen or more responded and were at once set to work, with two engines and crews which were dragging away the heavier rock which in many instances had to be dynamited being so large. When the work of clearing up the first slide was nearly finished, which was about 9 o'clock last night, another slide occurred, this time a much larger one, about 100 feet long and twelve feet high. In falling it killed three men almost instantly and injured four others. The men killed are:

HOWARD WHIPPS, single, resides in New Lexington, Ohio.

TIM MALONEY, and J. P. ALLEN, section foremen at Russell.

Maloney and Allen both have families residing at that place. They were horribly mangled and were taken to Delbert's undertaking parlors where they were prepared for shipment to their homes.

Those seriously injured are:

C. W. Brown, foreman of the bridge gang, whose home is in Canon City.

Frank Graham, section foreman at Wilbar.

John Palmer, laborer, unmarried, residing at Russell.

William Thompson, conductor, residing in this city, was slightly injured.

As soon as word was received here the company at once sent up a special train and conveyed the dead and injured to this city, starting at 1 o'clock this morning. Brown and Graham were taken on through to the Rio Grande hospital at Salida on the same train, it being transferred to the Rio Grande tracks.

Brown received a broken leg between the knee and ankle and also serious injuries to his back. Palmer's injuries are not as serious as those of the other men. Thompson had no bones broken but is badly scratched up and will be confined to his bed for several days.

Telegrams were at once sent out to the relatives of the dead men notifying them of the occurrence. Whipps' remains will probably be sent to his old home for interment.

Allen is a mason, a member of the A. O. U. W. and also a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Track Men and carries insurance in the latter two organizations.

The track was not damaged by the slide but the jar occasioned by blasting moved it somewhat out of plumb. There was no damage of importance done to the engine.

The slide is cleared up this evening and No. 11, F. and C. C. train was run through this afternoon but at 8 o'clock tonight no trains have arrived from Cripple Creek over the road.

BASEBALL GAMES WILL BE PLAYED AT CAMERON

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, April 12.—It is very probable that the Western league Sunday games scheduled for Colorado Springs will be played at the Cameron baseball park. C. L. Arzeno, general manager for the Cameron Townsite company, left this afternoon for Colorado Springs for the purpose of signing up the contract for the games. He guarantees the visiting clubs $200 each game. Upon his return from Colorado Springs he will put a number of workmen to work getting the grounds in the best possible condition. New bleachers will be constructed and other changes will be made necessary for the comfort of the players and the spectators. The games at Cameron will without doubt draw large audiences, as it is understood that during the summer months the big mines of the district will give their workmen a holiday. The opening league game occurs on May 5.

EDDIE SANTRY KNOCKED OUT BY YOUNG CORBETT

Denver, April 12.—Young Corbett of Denver won an easy victory over Eddie Santry of Chicago tonight before the Colorado Athletic association, knocking him out in the second round of what was to have been a ten round fight. The fight was Corbett's from the first. He did all the fighting in the first round. Santry was knocked down once and received several hard body blows, although he showed little effect of his punishment. In the second round Santry made a better showing, several exchanges being made before it and right on the jaw put Santry out of the fight. Frank Cullen was the referee.

In the preliminaries Abe Attell of San Francisco knocked out Scotty Williams of Denver, in the second round of a five round go.

Sam Bolin won from Birdlegs Collins at the end of five rounds.

Tom Schumacher of Denver beat Jack Corcoran of Minneapolis, in the fourth round of what was to have been a five round bout.

Terry McGovern and his sparring partner, Danny Dougherty, who are on their way to San Francisco, gave a sparring exhibition of four rounds.

After the main fight Corbett, from the ring, issued a challenge to Kid Broad, who defeated him some weeks ago, and also to Terry McGovern. Manager Harris for McGovern stated that the challenge would be accepted and a match made on the return of the party from the Pacific coast.

The Denver Wheel club arena was crowded tonight to see Terry McGovern, who sparred four rounds with Danny Dougherty. In addition to this there were several fast preliminaries, the best being between Eddie Toy of San Francisco, and Tom Richards of Denver. Toy is the 126-pound champion of the Pacific coast, and put out Richards, who weighed several pounds heavier, in the second round with a right to the jaw, followed with a hard rib jab to the stomach. Richards was out nearly five minutes.

Ben Trimble of California, and Billy Sixty of Chicago, will meet in this club on the 18th inst.

Kansas Coursing.

Clay Center, Kas., April 12.—The second day of the Kansas-Nebraska coursing meet was not a success, owing to the rain. The puppy stake was declared off. In the all age stake $220 was divided equally among the twenty-two dogs winning the first round. The Manhattan meet will begin Monday and two sets of races will be run.

The Fairfield, Nebraska, meet being declared off, Clay Center will have another meet April 23 and 24.

Battle in Arabia.

Bombay, April 12.—Ibu Rashid has recovered the kingdom of Nejd, Central Arabia, after defeating Mabaronk, Sheik of Koweyt, who recently seized the city of Nejd and deposed Ibu Rashid, after a pitched battle. The army of Mabaronk was lured into a narrow gorge, where the hordes of Ibu Rashid swooped down from the mountains and overwhelmed their enemies. The fugitives who have reached gulf ports declare that 5,000 men were killed. The fate of Mabaronk is not known.

It was announced in a dispatch from London March 8 to the Associated Press that Mabaronk, the Shiek of Koweyt, was then master of Central Arabia, according to dispatches received by the Times of India. Mabaronk's rise followed up his previous victory over the army of Ibu Rashid by the defeated troops clear across Central Arabia, seizing the city of Nejd and deposing Ibu Rashid. The latter appealed to the sultan of Turkey, who send troops from Bussorah, a frontier city of Asiatic Turkey, to his assistance, threatening to stop the overland pilgrimages to Mecca if he was not helped by Turkey.

Killed By Burglars.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 12.—Thomas D. Khane, a Mount Washington grocer, was shot and killed in his own home by three burglars this morning while defending his wife, who was being chloroformed. A few hours later the rendezvous of the alleged felons was discovered at 32 Fulton street. In a desperate fight which followed City Detective Patrick E. Fitzgerald was instantly killed and one of the supposed robbers, who gave his name as Edward Wright and who fired the shots that killed Fitzgerald, was badly wounded, being shot three times. Two male and two female members of the alleged robber gang were arrested and diamonds and other booty worth from $3,000 to $4,000 recovered.

The persons under arrest are Edward Wright, wounded; Robert Wilcox and his wife Jennie; J. B. Wright, a brother of the murderer, and a woman said to be his wife. All are from Chicago.

Aldace F. Walker.

New York, April 12.—Chairman Walker of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, died suddenly at his home in this city today.

Aldace F. Walker was born in West Rutland, Vt., in 1842. He was educated at Middlebury, Vt., college, and at the Columbia Law school, after which he served with the New York volunteers in the civil war, advancing to the rank of lieutenant colonel. After the war Mr. Walker practiced law in New York from 1867 to 1873, when he removed to Rutland, Vt. In 1882 he was elected a state senator in Vermont, and from 1887 to 1889 he served as a member of the interstate commerce commission. On leaving the interstate commerce commission, Mr. Walker became chairman of the Western Traffic association. His connection with the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad began in 1894, when he was appointed receiver of the company's property. After the reorganization Mr. Walker was made chairman of the board of directors and he retained this position up to the time of his death.

Appointments.

Washington, April 12.—The president today made the following appointments:

War—Charles R. Krauthoff, to be commissary with the rank of major.

Navy—Charles J. Lang, to be a lieutenant; James C. Pryor, to be past assistant surgeon, with rank of lieutenant; junior grade; Abel B. Pierce, to be assistant paymaster with rank of lieutenant, junior grade, and Stephen Donely, to be a gunner.

Bert Cassidy's Suicide.

Chicago, April 12.—Bert Cassidy, one of the best known newspaper men and artists in the west, shot and fatally wounded himself today while standing in the local room of the Daily News, with which paper he was associated. Family troubles are believed to have caused the deed. Cassidy was well-known in Denver and Cincinnati and was one of the first men to use chalk plates in connection with daily newspaper illustrating. He was 38 years of age.

Harry Vardon Won.

London, April 12.—Harry Vardon met James Braid today on the links at Elthan, in a thirty-six hole match. Both played brilliant golf and a splendid contest was the result. At the end of the first round Vardon had a one hole lead, the scores being 75 and 77. Vardon won the match two up and one to play.

The Skin AN INDEX TO THE BLOOD

Millions of little glands or tubes connect the blood with the skin, and through these small drain pipes perspiration passes out, carrying with it the impurities that are thrown off by the blood. Should the pores of the skin be entirely closed for even a brief space of time, and the poisonous matter forced back into the circulation, instant death would result. In addition to the sweat glands, the skin is provided with certain others which pour out upon it an oily substance, keeping it pliable and soft and protecting it from heat and cold. The blood and skin are so closely related that whatever affects one seriously interferes with the functions of the other. Not only health, but life itself, depends upon perfect harmony between the blood and skin. When, therefore, the blood becomes poisoned from any cause, it quickly manifests itself upon the skin in the form of sores and ulcers, pimples and various eruptive diseases. By the character of the sore we are enabled to determine the nature of the poison or humor in the blood. Nearly every disease originating in the blood has its own peculiar sore or pimple. The skin is not only affected by the poisons generated in the system, but poisons from without enter through the open glands or pores and quickly infect the blood. Mercury rubbed upon the skin will produce Rheumatism, and Poison Oak and Ivy and other wild plants gain easy access to the blood through the skin. As so-called skin diseases originate in the blood, the application of powders, soaps and washes can do no permanent good, but often do immense damage by closing up the outlet to these little tubes and interfering with the natural action of the skin. The treatment must begin with the blood, and the acid or other poisons neutralized or neutralized. S. S. S. does this and purifies the circulation, builds up the blood and flushes the little glands or pores with pure, new blood, and restores healthy action to the skin. The use of cosmetics never yet brought health and beauty to a rough, red, pimply skin or sallow complexion. What is needed is rich, pure blood, such as S. S. S. makes. It not only relieves you of all disfigurements, blackheads, blotches and irritating, itching eruptions, but improves your general health. S. S. S. contains no mercury, potash, arsenic or other mineral, but is a purely vegetable remedy and the safest and best in all blood and skin troubles. Write our physicians for advice or information; they have made a study of blood and skin diseases, and you can have the best medical advice without cost. Book on Blood and Skin Diseases free.

STEAM ENGINEERS TO HAVE A BALL

The local union of the International Union of Steam Engineers will give their first annual ball in the A. O. U. W. hall in this city on the night of April 25. The committee in charge of the ball consists of J. E. Leake, chairman, F. W. Belding, J. A. Huff, F. W. Clough, O. T. Jones and Charles Birdsall. The members of the union, working in conjunction with the committee, are making very extensive preparations for the ball and a good time is assured everyone who attends the first social function of the steam engineers.

The International Union of Steam Engineers is an old organization, but the local union has been established but a short time. It includes all of the steam engineers in this city and Colorado Springs, but the headquarters of the union are in this city and the meetings are held here. The proceeds of the ball will be used for the benefit of the union, and refreshments will be served and a fine programme will be rendered during the evening. The members of the union hope that their first effort in the social line will be attended with success.

NEWS OF MEMBERS OF THE A. O. U. W.

The grand lodge of the A. O. U. W. is meeting in Canon City this week. The meeting was called to order on Tuesday last and will remain in session until all of the business which may be brought before the state lodge is transacted. The delegate from the Colorado City lodge is A. Lillie, and the Degree of Honor is represented at the state meeting by Mrs. McAlder.

There will be no meeting of the local lodge next Tuesday night, owing to the benefit ball which will be given in Orchard for J. H. Hamel, whose house and bakery were burned down last month. Mr. Hamel states that it is not his intention to rebuild his home, which stood on the corner of Second street and Colorado avenue.

A number of the members of the local lodge of the A. O. U. W. are confined to their homes by illness. Mr. Winsatt, who resides on the Boulevard, in the western part of the city, is not expected to live. He has had dropsy for some time. Mr. Gibbs, also a member of this order, who resides on Main street on the south side, is also ill with dropsy, although his condition is not considered serious at the present time. Mrs. Van Fleet, a member of the Degree of Honor, is also confined to her home by sickness.

CITY BRIEFS

LINOLEUM AT BLOCK TO—Teachers' desk, which is one of the new Reed Bellstops, is almost completed, while the school building will immediately receive its last coat of plastering. Both buildings will be ready for occupancy by April 25.

DATE FOR DRAWING—The dates for drawing the lots in the Rustic Home addition has been set for April 30, by which time all of the lots will have been disposed of. A few lots were sold yesterday in this addition, and there are a number more for which can be disposed of any time.

TICKETS GOING—The tickets for Uncle Josh are on sale at Sherman's and are going very fast. From all indications all of the seats will be sold before the night of the performance, April 19. The programmes are being printed and will be very attractive.

WILL LOCATE HERE—W. S. Belfield, who has leased five acres of ground near Manitou for an ostrich farm, will reside in this city. The farm is on the Manitou car line and very easy of access from this city, and it is thought that Colorado city will receive a good deal of benefit from it in a business way.

DUCK HUNTING—George F. Geiger and party will leave this morning on a duck hunting expedition to the southern part of the state. There is very little time left in which to hunt ducks, as the season expires Monday.

POLICE COURT—There were two cases on trial in police court yesterday morning, both on charges of drunkenness. One of the offenders was fined $5 and costs and the other received a fine of $10 and costs. Both were committed to jail.

INTERESTING LECTURE—The lecture entitled "Around the World With a Kodak," which was given at the First Methodist church Thursday evening, was listened to by an appreciative, if not a large audience. The lecture was not very well attended on account of the heavy storm, but those who were there spoke very highly of it.

NEW HOUSE—Rev. W. E. Powell is erecting a new modern dwelling on Jackson avenue, between Third and Fourth streets.

SUCCESSFUL HUNT—J. F. Snyder and A. Ramsey, who returned from a duck hunt yesterday, bagged fourteen ducks. They went to Little Buttes.

SURPRISE FOR MR. AND MRS. JACKSON—The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Jackson planned a surprise on them at their home in this city last Tuesday evening. The occasion was the eleventh anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, and about twenty-five of their friends assembled at their home very unexpectedly and proceeded to have a good time. Those present were: Messrs and Mesdames Cotton, Nichols, Faulkner, Morse, Johnson, Dunbar, Slutter, Turnbull and Forman.

MASONS—The Masons held a stated communication at their hall Thursday night. Despite the bad weather a number of the members of the lodge were in attendance.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Mary Udick of Pueblo is in the city and is looking around for a house, with the intention of locating here permanently. Mr. Udick is in the grocery business in Pueblo, but will move to this city in a few days.

Henry C. Moore is in the city for a few days from Denver. Mr. Moore came down on business.

Mrs. M. Snodgrass, who has been visiting Miss Kimberling in this city for a few days, has returned to her home in Victor.

J. P. Balding, who is well known in this city as a former employe of the Colorado Midland, has moved to Denver, where he will reside in the future.

William Johnson, a foreman at the Standard smelter, is suffering very badly with rheumatism. He has been confined to his room for some days and will leave in a short time for the hot springs at Hartsell, Colo.

Mrs. Connors of Cripple Creek is in the city, the guest of C. M. Sherman and his family. Mrs. Conners was on her way home from Pueblo, where she attended the G. A. R. meetings, when she became snowbound in this city.

Mr. J. R. Goff is entertaining his brother from Kansas at his home in this city.

Mr. C. S. Spencer, agent of the Colorado Loan association, was a Denver visitor in the city yesterday.

Cliff Darras, who has been very ill for some time, is recovering his health and will soon be able to be out.

W. H. Everett returned yesterday from a two weeks' trip through the western part of the state.

K. B. Wiley and wife of Cripple Creek were visitors in this city yesterday.

Miss Blanche Kendall will leave soon for the east, where she will spend the summer months.

On a "War Risk" Basis.

San Francisco, April 12.—The Examiner says:

"Vessels bound from this coast to Chinese and Japanese ports must carry extra insurance and have been put on a "war risk" basis. This means a heavy addition to the usual rates of insurance and comes in the class as special hazards. The reason for this decision on the part of the marine underwriters is the strained relations between Japan and Russia.

The first vessel on which war risks were written was the Hang-kong Maru, one of the Japanese line. She sailed yesterday and carried extra lines of insurance on both hull and cargo.

Loomis' Interview.

Washington, April 12.—The various interviews ascribed to Minister Loomis at San Juan have attracted much attention here, and the minister probably will be invited to explain some of his utterances if he is not able to enter a broad denial of the accuracy of the interviews. Reflections upon the personal character of the president of Venezuela are not regarded as proper according to official etiquette, and it is confidently hoped that the minister will be able to repudiate this. Otherwise it would be manifestly impossible for him to return to Venezuela, even in the event that the issues which led to his departure were satisfactorily composed. The prevalent idea is that no matter how these personal questions are settled, it will be a long time before a United States minister resumes the post at Caracas.

A Mistaken Move.

New York, April 12.—Robert M. Moore, counsel for Albert T. Patrick, David L. Short and Morris Meyer, who are charged with the forgery of the will of William M. Rice, appeared before Recorder Goff in the court of general sessions today and made a motion to decrease the bail of Short and Meyer. In opposing the motion Assistant District Attorney Garvin said it was the intention of the district attorney to connect Short and Meyer with the conspiracy to get control of Rice's fortune.

Instead of acceding to the request that the bail be reduced, Recorder Goff increased it to $20,000 each, instead of $10,000.

Kindergartners.

Washington, April 12.—The International Kindergarten union today selected Boston as the place of meeting for next year, the date to be decided by the national executive and the local committees. These officers were elected:

President, Mrs. Alice E. Putnam, Chicago; first vice president, Miss Laura Fisher, Boston; second vice president, Miss Mary D. Runyon, New York City; recording secretary, Miss Bertha Payne, Chicago; corresponding secretary and treasurer, Miss Fannibelle Curtis, New York City; auditor, Miss Harriet Nell, Washington, D. C.

Concerning Joseph Joachim.

When the writer first personally knew Dr. Joachim it was in her father's house at Palace Green. She can remember seeing him coming in one rainy afternoon in springtime, and entering the long light-blue drawing room. He was a young man then. He was carrying a rolled-up scroll—it was an original score of Beethoven's which some one had just given him; he showed us the cramped, fierce writing, the angry-looking notes of those calm harmonies. I have never again seen a Beethoven MS., but the remembrance is distinct of that one, as well as of Joachim's talk of Beethoven himself, of his mighty self and his protesting nerves, and his impossible difficulties with housekeepers and maids-of-all-work. I have sometimes heard Joachim speak of Schumann with the gentlest affection and reverence, and then of Brahms—above all of Brahms, and of his meeting with him, one of the greatest emotions of his life.

We had once the happy opportunity of hearing the Joachim quarette at Dresden. It seemed to me then, as now, that I had never heard music before, so beautiful, so exquisite did it sound in that dark, bare Gewandthaus by the Elbe. It may be a foolish fancy, but to the writer's mind music never sounds so well as when there is flowing water within reach; whether it is best for those who listen by the Rhine at Bonn or by the Elbe at Dresden matters little. Or shall we write of a Romance of Schumann's, a concerto of Mozart's, that were sounding but a few days ago in an old Chelsea house; Joachim was not there, but it was his teaching and inspiration that called forth the harmony. One of his most faithful followers was at the piano; his friend and pupil, Mrs. Liddell, had brought her violin. To the writer, hurrying home afterwards with happy pulses, the very mists of winter seemed to bear the beautiful impression along with them, and the tides of the stream to repeat it.—(Mrs. Richmond Ritchie in the April Critic.

"While I was in the state attorney's office," says William C. Smith, formerly deputy state attorney of Maryland, "I had to try a case against an otherwise honest German for selling liquor on Sunday. The defendant had retained a certain member of the bar who is noted for his high C voice. During this attorney's rather loud address his German client looked on in rapt admiration, and he was heard to remark:

"'Ach! dot's der kind of lawyer to haf, yet.'

"'Why?' he was asked.

"'Because,' was the reply; 'he hollers so loud he scares der jury.'"—(New York Tribune.

Seeing a Book Play.

"An instance of the state of mind in which some people go to see a dramatized novel came to my notice in a bit of conversation overheard from three people sitting behind me in the theater. The play was 'Unleavened Bread.' The party consisted of father, mother, and a daughter of about 18 years, all tastefully and expensively dressed, and having the air of folks comfortable in life.

"(The orchestra, an atrocious one, is playing the overture.)

"Father (curiously)—Mamma, what's the plot of this play? You've read the novel, haven't you?

"Mother (wearily)—Oh, there's no plot to speak of. You don't need to know it to understand the play. Besides, I didn't read the book, Elsie did.

"Father (with increased curiousity)—What's the plot of it, Elsie?

"Elsie (as through a glass darkly)—Well er—I didn't read the book through, papa. It's—er—about a woman—Selma White's her name and she's got ideas higher than she ought—that is—I think—she wants to be aesthetic, you know.

"Father (comprehending perfectly)—Um-um! Thank you, dear."

Bradstreet's Review.

New York, April 12.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

Crop and trade advices alike continue favorable. The seat of greatest strength is in the iron and steel trade, while textiles evince the most irregularity. Despite the unquestionably quieter tone of export trade in manufactures, it is to be noted that Americans are still reaping some advantages from their superiority in certain lines of iron and steel. Retail trade has been helped by better weather in most sections and, while spring jobbing is smaller at several markets, improved retail trade conditions are expected to help re-order business.

Iron and steel are aggressively strong. Despite the fact that pig iron production is close to the maximum of last year, stocks are still decreasing. Good sales of iron and billets are noted at Pittsburg at last week's prices. Finished products are active and most mills are sold ahead beyond July. Despite the drop in export trade, some good orders are being received. One Tor d large quantity of rails, said to be for South America. An order for rails from Glasgow is also noted, and a 4,500-ton order for structural material for a dock in Japan has gone to Pittsburg. New bridge and "sky scraper" construction will take a large quantity of material. Plates are higher and an advance in bars is noted from St. Louis. Copper has sympathized with the stock market and is reported higher abroad.

Wheat has apparently disconfirmed the good crop reports and better export buying of both wheat and flour is reflected in the change from a bearish to a more cheerful tone. The gain in price, however, is a slight one. The slight decline in corn is a result of Chicago manipulation. The high price of late has tended to restrict the heretofore heavy shipments abroad.

Wheat (including flour) shipments for the week aggregate 6,405,691 bushels, against 4,638,693 bushels last week and 2,856,653 bushels in the corresponding week of 1900.

From July 1 to date this season, wheat exports are 162,221,029 bushels, against 153,816,286 bushels last season and 190,332,419 bushels in 1898-99.

Failures, for the week in the United States number 225, against 188 last week and 155 in this week a year ago. Canadian failures number 25, against 29 last week, and 35 in this week a year ago.

Dun's Review.

New York, April 12.—R. G. Dun's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

The tone of general business has been better this week. Marked activity in the distribution of merchandise is reflected in the gains of 45.9 per cent in bank clearings at New York, compared with 1900, and 2.8 per cent over 1899, with gains of 15.5 and 10.8 per cent for the same period at leading cities outside New York. Even the textile markets show pronounced gain. Activity in the metal division has taken pig iron production to near record figures, and some dealers do not see how production of partly finished forms this year is to be made to meet the demand. The government report of the condition of wheat on April 1 is the surest possible basis upon which expectation of continued commercial prosperity could be founded. Stringency of money is largely local in New York and does not alter reports from most of the larger cities of favorable conditions in collections. Railroad earnings in March were 7.4 per cent larger than last year and 22.4 per cent over 1899, according to practically complete returns.

Pig iron production on April 1, according to the Iron Age, was at the rate of 236,676 tons weekly. This quantity has been exceeded twice in the history of the industry, on December 1, 1899, when 256,959 tons were produced, and on February 1, 1900, when the output was 238,014 tons. The remarkable feature of the situation is the decrease of 63,568 tons in furnace stocks during March, in the face of this enormous production, while in six months the loss in supplies amounted to 203,656 tons. Quotations are generally steady for all forms except plates, on which $2 a ton more is demanded, without restricting purchases. Contracts for delivery of pig iron do not as a rule extend beyond this month, and furnace stocks cannot be expected to continue to decrease unless new business comes forward, for many furnaces have gone into blast since the month opened and production on May 1 will probably be at a new high record.

Speculation has been unusually heavy in food stuffs, the local market averaging over 2,000,000 bushels of wheat daily.

I rather thought that Alexander
Would sound well at the font,
While mother much preferred Leander
For him who swam the Hellespont.
Grandfather clamored for Uriah,—
While grandma mentioned Obadiah.

Then mother spoke of Clarence, Cyril,
And Reginald and Claude,
But I thought none of them were virile
Like some such name as Ichabod.
Grandfather spoke for Jeremiah,
And grandpa favored Azariah.

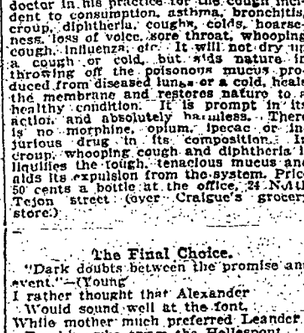

Then Harold, Gerald, Donald, Luke,
And lordly Roderick
Waged wordy war with Marmaduke
And Bernard and Theodoric,
While grandpa hinted Zachariah
And grandma thought of Hezekiah.

We spoke of Gottlieb from the German,
Of Gatus, Caius, Saul,
Of Andrew, Francois, Ivan, Herman,
Of Caspar, Jasper, Peter, Paul.
Still grandpa stuck for Nehemiah,

THE REASON SUCCESS ATTENDS

Dr. Ellison's efforts in behalf of all who suffer from Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and Chronic Diseases of Men, Women and Children, is because he does not try to cure all Diseases, but makes special and persistent study of these Diseases. Examination free.

Health once lost and sickness continued until disease becomes seated and chronic, cannot be cured by the ordinary methods of treatment made use of and intended for the amelioration of acute diseases. It requires the constant care and attention of a specialist to cure chronic diseases. This life is too brief for one man to master all of the departments of medical science, and it is simply beyond the possibility of any physician to be successful in the treatment of common ailments or general practice and also treat and cure chronic diseases. Specialism in business or professional life is as natural as cause and effect. Dr. Ellison makes it a business of his life to treat consumption, asthma, catarrh, bronchitis and chronic diseases of men, women and children; and in his desire to perfect a successful treatment for the cure of the diseases he treats as a specialty, he has spared neither time nor expense. In the past three years nearly two thousand cases have presented themselves for special treatment, and of all of this number only four have died. Dr. Ellison's sulphur treatment for pulmonary tuberculosis can be taken at your home, wherever that may be. Office, 24 North Tejon street (over Craigue's grocery store.) Office hours: Mornings, from 9 to 12; afternoons, from 2 to 5; every evening from 7 to 8 o'clock. Sundays from 2 to 3 p. m.

DR. ELLISON'S SULPHUR COUGH CURE

This remedy has long been used by the doctor in his practice for the cough incident to consumption, asthma, bronchitis, croup, diphtheria, coughs, colds, hoarseness, loss of voice, sore throat, whooping cough, influenza, etc. It will not dry up a cough or cold, but aids nature in throwing off the poisonous mucus produced from diseased lungs or a cold, heals the membrane and restores nature to a healthy condition. It is prompt in its action, and absolutely harmless. There is no morphine, opium, ipecac or injurious drug in its composition. In croup, whooping cough and diphtheria it liquifies the tough, tenacious mucus and aids its expulsion from the system. Price 50 cents a bottle at the office, 24 North Tejon street (over Craigue's grocery store.)

THE PRESIDENT AND THE WEST.

IT would be a good thing for all concerned if President McKinley's approaching trip to the Pacific coast and through the western states should be made a precedent, so that at least once during each term the president of the United States should visit the south, the west, the north and the central portion of the national domain in order that he may thereby become better acquainted with the needs, the conditions and the people of the nation. In a considerable degree the life at Washington is a narrow one. Senators and representatives can give only an imperfect reproduction of the thoughts and wishes of the great mass of the people, and too often congressmen of both houses owe their advancement to other reasons than their ability to speak for and of the people. If the president wishes to know what the people really are and what they are thinking he must see them at home and he can gain more of this knowledge in a day of travel than in a month at Washington.

This is one reason why the people of the west, who desire to see the tour of the president made an annual, or at least a quadrennial feature of the national programme, will do everything in their power to welcome the president in their states and cities and to make his tour a pleasant and an instructive one.

But there is also another reason why the people of the west will give a particular welcome to this president, and that is because William McKinley has accomplished more for the west than any man who has ever held the presidency, more possibly, than any future president will be able to do for it.

When William McKinley became president in 1896 the United States faced the Atlantic ocean. Our interest and our business were directed towards the east. Even China was the far east to us and the development of its trade was a matter that lay in the distant future.

The events of the past four years have changed all that. The United States today faces westward as well as eastward. We have expanded across the Pacific. Hawaii is ours, half of Samoa, Guam and the myriad Philippines. In China the American diplomacy has marked the course for others to follow, and has given us a prestige that we never before enjoyed. The growth of our Pacific trade is enormous and its effects are already felt throughout the western half of our continent. The westward journey of the president is itself an outgrowth of that sentiment which is strong in every department of the national life, the sentiment that finds expression in the familiar line: "Westward the course of empire takes its way."

To a certain class of Americans it will seem like claiming too much to ask credit for the president for what has happened towards the development of the west in the past four years. It is to chance or to Providence they will say, rather than to President McKinley that the credit belongs. But surely it is easy to see where under like circumstances a man of lesser intelligence or weaker judgment would have turned the course of events in another direction, and even if President McKinley has done no more than to allow events to develop themselves in their natural course for our best interests, he has deserved well of the people of the west.

OUR GERMAN CRITICS.

THE New York Evening Post quotes, approvingly, of course, from Professor Ferdinand Blumentritt, the well-known German authority on Philippine conditions, who has published a brochure dealing in brief with the history of the Philippines and the present conditions. He finds that the Filipinos had every reason to believe that the United States intended to give them their freedom, since our authorities interfered with neither their proclamation of independence nor the installation of the government of the Philippine republic in June and August, 1898. Coming to present conditions, he writes that "time will show whether the Americans can conquer the Filipinos," as it has. He is certain, however, that in the case of an American victory the Philippines will remain insecure possessions, since there can be no talk of reconciliation or of a brotherhood (Verbruederung) between Americans and Filipinos. It is essentially a race question, and, one, he thinks, in which the brutal Anglo-Saxon domination over natives the world over must play an unfortunate part. "If Professor Blumentritt were an American," says the Post, "he would be charged with treason and pessimism of the real anti-imperialistic kind, since he finds that the American excuse that Aguinaldo's government was not fit to govern the islands does not agree with the facts. There are more highly educated people in the Philippines than in Servia, Bulgaria, or Montenegro and fewer uneducated people than are to be found in the Balkan states, in Russia, in many provinces of Spain and Portugal, and in the Latin-American republics; and from his personal observations he states that the Filipinos do more for education than does Spain or the Balkan states." In conclusion Professor Blumentritt says: "At any rate, the Philippine people have won for themselves the sympathy of all who reject the principle that might makes right." "If our imperialist friends only had this 'Dutchman' here," comments the Post, "they would soon show him that right is over on the side of the United States, no matter whether it despoils Mexico, Cuba, or the Philippines."

We can well imagine with what a profound willingness the eminent Germans would undertake the task of establishing "Verbruederung" with the Filipinos after the failure of the Yankees. Incidentally it may be presumed that there would be no serious objection to any commercial advantages that might result from the same process. In view, however of recent frank disclosures in the German parliament and the declaration of a prominent colonial official that slavery exists in German colonies and is a necessity for German colonial success we are not certain that "Verbruederung" would be any improvement over "benevolent assimilation."

SCHOOL BOY ATHLETES AT BUFFALO.

ONE of the special features of the Pan-American exposition at Buffalo is a national interscholastic athletic meeting which is to be held on the stadium athletic field on Friday and Saturday, July 12 and 13 under the rules fixed by the bureau of sports of the exposition.

Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded to the first, second and third respectively in each of the following events: 100 yards run. 220 yards run. 440 yards run. 880 yards run. One mile run. Five mile run. Running broad jump. Pole vault for height. Putting the twelve-pound shot. Throwing the twelve-pound hammer. Throwing the discus. 120 yards hurdle race. (10 flights, 3 feet 6 inches high.) One mile team relay race, teams of four men each, each man to run quarter mile. 220 yards hurdle race, (10 flights, 2 feet 6 inches high.)

No entry will be received unless made upon the official entry blank which may be obtained upon application to Stephen D. Clark, secretary, Bureau of Sports, Pan-American exposition, 433 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, N. Y.

Each competitor must certify that he is an amateur according to the laws of the A. A. U. of the United States. Great care should be used in making out entry blanks, as an error will be considered as an intention to mislead the handicapper, and such entry will be rejected.

Entries close with the Bureau of Sports, May 9, 1901. An entrance fee of 50 cents must accompany each entry.

A certificate signed by the principal of the school or by some one in authority to the effect that the person signing the blank is a student at the school mentioned, and is eligible to represent the school in the event or events named, must be attached to each entry blank.

We believe that the superiority of the American school boy as an athlete is even more marked than the superiority of the American college amateur or professional. It is to be hoped that the representation at Buffalo will include some from foreign lands and also that our own western states will be suitably represented among the contestants and prize winners.

MANITOU'S BIG HOTEL.

WITH the conditions existing in Colorado today it is more of a wonder than ever before that Manitou is not equipped with a first class modern hotel, one that is consistent with the rank of that city as a summer resort and with the natural attractions that are so freely bestowed in that locality.

The Gazette has frequently called attention in the past to this opportunity for investment, and at the present it exists to a larger degree than ever before. Manitou has not kept pace with the development of the Pike's Peak region. It possesses the natural resources to make it the leading summer resort of the Rocky mountain region. It ought at least to be the most popular and the best equipped resort city between the Pacific coast and the great lakes. It is favorably situated for such a destiny and it is entirely within the bounds of reasonable possibility to make it what it ought to be.

Nothing would tend so much towards this end as the construction of a really first class hotel which would be to Manitou what the new Antlers will be to Colorado Springs. Such a hotel would not have to draw business away from others, for it would create its own patronage and in so doing it would increase rather than decrease the business of others.

The capitalist who will undertake to provide Manitou with a first class hotel of the modern style will not only have the satisfaction of knowing that he has made a good investment, but also that he has been instrumental in building up the principal summer resort of the west.

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

AT the present time there appear to be two sources of information on eastern affairs, and like the hot and cold water faucets at the wash bowl, it depends on the user to get whatever he desires.

According to one cheerful report published in a French newspaper the Russian foreign minister's servants pitched the Chinese minister down stairs, breaking his head. We are also told that M. de Giers will support the policy of utmost severity towards China and has notified Li Hung Chang to that effect.

On the other hand it is said that Japan is perfectly satisfied with the Russian explanations in regard to Manchuria, regarding them as entirely sincere, and that the concert of powers is quite harmonious, and the prospects for continued peace greatly improved.

The peaceful reports appear to be the more reliable, and it seems probable that the crisis in far eastern affairs has been passed, at least for a time.

THE LARGEST SHIP EVER BUILT.

THE new White Star steamship, Celtic, which was launched at Belfast on April 4, is the largest ship ever built. Her length is 680 feet which is twenty-four feet less than the Oceanic and six feet less than the Deutschland; but her tonnage is 3,600 greater than the Oceanic and 10,300 greater than the Great Eastern.

The Celtic is intended primarily for emigrant business, and will have a total capacity of 2,859 berths, of which 1,700 will be in the steerage.

The career of the Celtic will be watched with interest. It is well known that the Great Eastern, chiefly because of her size, was a business failure. If the Celtic is a success it will not be long before her size will be surpassed. The limitation of the size of ocean steamships is a financial rather than a mechanical consideration.

CHRISTIANS AND VOTING.

A PENNSYLVANIA minister, it is said, has resigned his charge because his congregation locked him out of the church, the reason for this act being that the minister had told his parishioners who did not vote the Prohibition ticket that "they were not Christians."

In presuming to dictate to the members of his congregation what ticket they should vote this minister clearly exceeded all reasonable limits and his hearers were justified in any reasonable act of disapproval.

If, however, he had censured them for not voting at all the case would have been different. It is possible for a person to be a good Christian without voting, but the person who can vote and won't vote is certainly not as good a Christian as he might be.

The report sent out from London to the effect that the Filipino junta in Europe fears that Aguinaldo may be tortured and is preparing a protest to be sent to European governments in case at least to show how remarkably ill-informed the Filipino junta is. The report is, however, only a little more absurd than numerous others that have been sent out regarding what the Americans proposed to do in the Philippines.

England promises to get even with the Boer sympathizers who are trying to prevent the export of horses from the United States by stopping purchases of beef. If John Bull can't ride he will go hungry. The reasonableness of the proposition is self-evident.

General Delgado, ex-chief of the insurgents of Panay, has been appointed as American governor of Iloilo. No word of Aguinaldo was in a hurry to take the oath of allegiance.

It is beginning to dawn on some members of the legislature that the Republican mayor of Colorado Springs is as fine a man as the Democratic mayor of Pueblo.

The Turkish government has borrowed a million dollars to pay its debts. Great financiers, those Turks.

Every Millionaire" is a Missourian on the subject of Colorado Springs climate.

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

The Growth of Advertising.

(New York Tribune.)

Much has been said in criticism of Mr. Bryan's "Commoner," and even his best friends would doubtless admit that thus far the contents of that curious publication are not calculated to add to the reputation of its editor and proprietor. But even if its reading matter were much better than it is, the entire absence from it of any advertisements would seriously detract from its interest. For, startling as the statement may seem, although the editor of a publication prints advertisements to increase the income of his paper, and not primarily to make it more interesting to its readers, in point of fact advertisements do interest a great many people, and a daily paper or magazine that should discontinue printing them would soon experience a serious decline in its circulation as well as its bank account. The advertising columns in today's issue of the Tribune represents a side, and a most important side, of the great, living, pulsating world, which, for obvious reasons, cannot and should not find expression in its news columns; and, therefore, these advertisements are an essential part of the daily world's record to which all readers turn, as certainly as they do to the various features of news. There are two principles at work; first, the advertisements interest the readers of the paper, and second, the paper is thereby made a more valuable advertising medium for the advertisers. While it is the first duty of the editor to print the news, it is no less his duty to print all legitimate advertisements, because by so doing he will add materially to the attractiveness and value of his paper. And so far as the Tribune is concerned, it may interest readers and advertisers alike to know that during the past month The Tribune's well filled advertising pages have exceeded in both space and money value those in any previous month in the whole sixty years of this journal's existence.

In the last quarterly publication of the American Statistical association Sidney A. Sherman gives an instructive sketch of the great growth of modern advertising and the important part it has come to play as one of the forces of civilization. Fifty years ago there was little advertising in the daily or periodical publications, and as a rule advertisements were inartistic and unattractive in form and crude in conception. Today it is estimated that advertising influences sales to the amount of $10,000,000,000, and that on the basis of 5 per cent. as an average this represents an annual outgo for advertising of $500,000,000.

The largest advertiser in the world is said to be a sewing machine company, though it reckons its payments to canvassers as advertising. One soup manufacturing concern spends about $1,000,000 a year in advertising, and an appropriation of from $500,000 to $600,000 a year for advertising is by no means uncommon in the business world. Mr. Sherman thinks that up to a certain point the so-called trust method of doing business is inimical to advertising, as it tends to eliminate competition. But the facts hardly justify this view, because many of the business concerns, as, for instance, iron mills, that become consolidated, never advertise anyway, and others apparently can only remain monopolists, as against an army of rivals who want to become monopolists themselves, by liberal and constant appeals to the public through the advertising columns of the daily press.

The progress of advertising has been great in the United States during the last few years, and there is comparatively little of the offensive advertising that makes the railway stations and omnibuses in England so hideous. Moreover, the newspaper advertising in the English papers is, on the whole, less attractive than the advertising in American papers. The English advertisements are too bald, too prosy and too mechanical in their makeup. The art of writing and displaying advertisements has made great progress in this country. Advertising, in fact, has been put in the hands of specialists, who have made an exhaustive study of the subject. But great as has been the progress of advertising, it is by no means as general as it ought to be. Nearly two-thirds of the large general advertisers are to be found in the New England states, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware. About a third of them are in New York state. Outside of this state Massachusetts and Illinois lead all the other states in advertising. It may be added that a little more than 25 per cent. of all the general advertisers of the country center their business in this city. But an appreciation of the importance, or rather the necessity of advertising is growing in other parts of the country, and has been especially notable since the present era of business expansion set in. Prosperity not only stimulates old wants, but creates new ones. And those who are in keen competition to meet those wants find that only by constant advertising can they hope to succeed.

Philippine Judges.

(New York Tribune.)

The departure from San Francisco of four men appointed to judicial office in the Philippines leads the New York Evening Post to ask:

"By whom were these men chosen? Under what power? Who judged of the necessity for their appointment, and who fixed their respective salaries? Was the advice and consent of the senate of the United States asked, as is required by the Constitution when members of the federal judiciary are selected? These are some of the questions which naturally suggest themselves to any one of an inquiring turn of mind on reading such a dispatch. The reply that these judges were chosen solely by virtue of the general war power of the president shows that one of the serious problems of peace in the Philippines is already pressing for its solution."

These men were chosen by the president of the United tates by virtue of the act of congress conferring upon him "all military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the Philippine islands," not by virtue of the war power, ample as that may have been before congress came forward to clothe him with express authority for what he has done and is doing. The president judged the necessity of these appointments and fixed the salaries of the officers also by virtue of the authority vested in him by act of congress. The advice and consent of the senate which is required by the Constitution when members of the federal judiciary are selected was not asked. One reason for not asking was that the judges going to the Philippines are not members of the federal judiciary in the meaning of the Constitution. Chief Justice Marshall and his associates in the supreme court settled that question in 1828 when they decided that courts created by congress for the territory of Florida were not representatives of the judicial power of the United States as defined in the Constitution, but that the judges of those Florida courts, holding office for terms of four years, regardless of the Constitution's requirement concerning the tenure of federal judges, could exercise jurisdiction likewise regardless of the provisions of that instrument, by virtue of the general right of sovereignty possessed over the territory of Florida by congress, their creator. The senate was not asked to confirm these appointments, as it is asked to confirm many other appointments which the Constitution does not mention in detail as requiring confirmation, because congress conferred the power of appointment without reference to the senate upon the president. This it does frequently with respect to minor offices, and occasionally with respect to important offices when there are practical reasons for doing so. It did this in 1803, when it authorized the president to govern Louisiana by officers of his own sole selection in a law of which the Spooner resolution is an almost perfect paraphrase. It conferred the same power on the president to rule Florida, through officials not confirmed by the senate. In 1894 congress established an elaborate system of government of the territory of Orleans, with governor, council and judges, all chosen by the president, and some of them the members of the council without the advice and consent of the senate. So precedent exists for judges confirmed and unconfirmed, and for other high officers confirmed and unconfirmed. The president has usurped nothing in sending out these judges, and congress has conferred on him no authority with reference to them which the "fathers" have not by their acts approved.

The Theater and the Public.

(New York Sun.)

In truth, the theater is getting along very well as it is. Artistically the plays presented with popular favor are fully up to the current popular fiction, and morally they are on no lower level. This winter we have had a special opportunity for such a comparison, because so many of the plays have been constructed out of the materials of novels of ephemeral popularity, and the consequence has been the distinct lowering of the theatrical production. As to the acting, it is better than formerly, taking together the whole company at any theater of consequence. Minor parts are not acted by the sticks who used to be foils for great actors and who marred enjoyment of a play, and frequently in that humbler histrionic sphere true artistic excellence is manifested by some unknown player who needs only to persist in it to attain ultimate fame and fortune. Nowhere else is superiority so sure to be discovered and rewarded. Enjoyment of other art may be assumed and affected, but people's judgment of a play is genuine and spontaneous. The approval of a play or of acting by the management of an endowed theater would not be accepted by them as authority superior to their own; and, in truth, they are the better judges.

Competition and the assurance of substantial profit for managers catering successfully to the popular taste in dramatic art are the only stimulus needed for the improvement of the theater, since, in the long run, experience demonstrates that the better the art the more profitable it is pecuniarily. The theory that in an endowed theater actors would rise to greater heights than they reach now because it would not be dependent on popular support would not work in practice. Without such support it would fall into contempt.

Beautiful Incident in the Life of Queen Victoria.

The recent death of England's beloved queen calls to mind many incidents of her early reign which at that time showed the unusual quality of heart and mind possessed by the woman who was destined to become England's greatest ruler. The following incident was published in The New York Ledger of January 8, 1859:

William IV. expired about midnight, if we remember right, at the Windsor palace. The Archbishop of Canterbury, with other peers and high functionaries of the kingdom, were in attendance. As soon as the "scepter had departed" with the last breath of the king, the archbishop quitted Windsor castle and made his way with all possible speed to Kensington palace, the residence at that time of the princess (already, by the law of succession, queen Victoria. He arrived long before daylight, announced himself, and requested an immediate interview with the princess. She hastily attired herself and met the venerable prelate in her ante-room. He informed her of the demise of William and formally announced to her that she was, in law and right, successor to the deceased monarch. "The sovereignty of the most powerful nation of the earth lay at the feet of a girl of 18. She was, de jure, queen of the only realm, in fact or history, on which the sun never sets." She was deeply agitated at the formidable words, so fraught with blessing or calamity. The first words she was able to utter were these: "I ask your prayers in my behalf." They kneeled together and Victoria inaugurated her reign, like the young king of Israel in olden time, by asking from the Most High who ruleth in the kingdom of men "an understanding heart to judge so great a people, who could not be numbered nor counted for multitude."—(Ledger Monthly for April.

Workshops of American Writers.

Environment has much to do with with the workings of the human mind. Different temperaments require different conditions in which to accomplish best results. This is peculiarly shown in the case of the great American writers of the day; for example, Harriet Prescott Spofford does her best work sitting under the trees writing on a pad resting in her lap.

Margaret Deland has a perpetual bit of summer introduced into her Boston home. A small glass conservatory, filled to overflowing with gay jonquils, is where this brilliant writer does her best work.

Winston Churchill, author of "Richard Carvel," lives in St. Louis in the winter and in Vermont in the summer. He does his work in a very business-like way in an office at the top of one of the city's sky-scrapers. Here, surrounded by the roar and din of the city's traffic, he wrote the charming story of long ago, when cable cars and typewriters were an unknown quantity.

Bret Harte generally writes out of doors, but always while smoking. He said the first line always took a cigar and sometimes two cigars.

In the city of Atlanta, in a home-like little cottage embowered in rosebushes and apple trees, Mr. Joel Chandler Harris writes his inimitable tales of "Uncle Remus and Brer Rabbit."—(Blanche G. Spinney in April Ledger Monthly.

April's Return.

A flash is on the woodland
A song is in the hedge
The meadow wears its fair again
For April keeps her pledge.

A thrill with every heartbeat
A rapture touched with sighs
New luster on the soul of life
Tears in my happy eyes.

M'KINLEY COMES JUNE 6 AND 7

President Announces the Date of His Stay in Colorado Springs---Arranging the Reception.

President McKinley will visit Colorado Springs June 6 and 7.

Word was received yesterday by the local executive committee in charge of the president's reception, announcing that Mr. McKinley's party will arrive here early in the morning of Thursday, June 6, and will depart on the afternoon of the following day. The telegram, which was addressed to the committee, was as follows:

"Your telegram of the tenth received. Expect to arrive early morning of June 6, leaving 3:15 p. m., June 7.

"George P. Cortelyou, Secretary."

According to the telegram, the visit will take place one week later than was expected.

Definite arrangements will be made immediately for the reception. The chairman of the citizens' executive committee last night issued a call for a meeting of the committee for today at noon, sharp, at the chamber of commerce. The committee is composed as follows: Mayor Robinson, F. E. Brooks, President Slocum of Colorado college, Judge Gunnell, Senator Seldomridge, William Lennox and D. B. Fairley, chairman.

TELEGRAPHERS TO HAVE A HOME

Proposed Institution for This City Is Backed by Andrew Carnegie---Local Interests Must Give Site.

Arrangements are well under way for the establishing in Colorado Springs of a big national institution for the care of retired and homeless telegraph operators.

Andrew Carnegie, who began his career as a telegrapher, has stated his willingness to contribute to the project and the local chamber of commerce has offered to donate a site for the home. Although no definite plans have been made concerning the proposed building, it will cost at least $100,000 and probably much more.

It is expected that the fund will be started by contributions from all the telegraph and cable companies in the country. The idea is to have each of these companies set aside a day's earnings as a nucleus. As the corporation's earnings amount to tens of thousands of dollars a day, sufficient money should be raised in this way to establish the institution.

Ever since the project was started, several months ago, Andrew Carnegie has been in correspondence with with Gilbert McClurg, secretary of the Colorado Springs chamber of commerce. He has written that he is willing to do his share towards founding the home.

Among those interested is Addison C. Thomas, superintendent of the central division of the Associated Press. Mr. McClurg received a letter from him yesterday, in which he asked the secretary to come to Chicago, as something interesting had developed there in connection with the enterprise. Mr. McClurg will go to Chicago in a day or two.

Executive Likely to Lay Cornerstone

The announcement that President McKinley will be in Colorado Springs June 6 and 7 makes it practically certain that one of the features of his stay here will be the laying of the corner-stone of the new Y. M. C. A. building.

It was supposed upto yesterday that he would be here on Decoration day which event the local committee might not urge the Y. M. C. A. invitation, it being considered especially appropriate that the president, himself a veteran, should participate in some manner in the Memorial day exercises here.

It is definitely decided now, however, that he will not be here for Decoration day, but a week later.

Mayor Robinson, who is the vice president of the Y. M. C. A. sent a formal invitation to the corner-stone exercises to Secretary Cortelyou about two weeks ago. He has received a reply to this message, stating that the matter of the president's participation in the exercises would be left entirely in the hands of the local committee. It is entirely probable, therefore, that the president will officiate at the exercises.

Secretary Day said that with this in view the work on the masonry would be pushed with all possible rapidity and that a platform which would cover the entire basement, being of the size of the lot or 50x190 feet would be built to accommodate the guests of the occasion.

They Don't Care for Providence Church

The semi-annual session of the Presbytery of Pueblo, held at Monte Vista, April 9-11, closes another very successful epoch in the church history of the southwest.

Philo C. Hildreth was the delegate from Colorado Springs, and others attending the session from this city were Dr. W. H. Boyle, Rev. C. K. Powell, D. T. C. Kirkwood, Robert Waugh and John Lennox.

Aside from the business considerations of the session, the most important subject before the Presbytery concerned the seceding Presbyterian church of Pueblo. Some time ago the Rev. A. K. Harsha and some sixty-seven members of the Mesa church, of Pueblo, organized themselves into a separate and independent church, in defiance of the Home Mission committee of the Presbytery. The Presbytery took action against the seceding church called the Providence Presbyterian church practically ignoring this new branch of the Presbyterian church. The text of the action is as follows:

"We recommend that all the actions of the session of the Mesa Presbyterian church; of the Home Mission committee, pertinent to this matter, be heartily approved by the Presbytery; that we pledge our sympathy and co-operation with the Mesa Presbyterian church in its present depletion and consequent dilemma; that we condemn the defiant and irregular procedure by which the seceders have effected a so-called new organization; that we repudiate the possibility of taking any cognizance of the so-called Providence Presbyterian church in its present status, and that in view of certain conduct of Rev. A. K. Harsha, personally as a party to the matter giving rise to these grievances and in matters incidental to it, his letter of dismission recently given be hereby recalled and that notice of the action be immediately forwarded to Rev. A. K. Harsha and to the registrar of the Arkansas Valley Association of Congregational Churches."

Dr. Boyle and Robert Waugh were elected delegates to the general assembly, which convenes in Philadelphia next month.

The First Presbyterian church of this city, being the largest and most influential in the Presbytery, had an important part in the proceedings, and contributed one-third of the entire mission fund and almost one-half of the Sunday school fund was raised by this church.

200 People by the Hair!

An average, healthy hair will support a quarter of a pound. There are 120,000 of these on the head. They all together would support 30,000 pounds, wouldn't they? This is equivalent to an audience of 200 people, weighing 150 pounds each!

It's mathematically true that an average head of hair will support an entire audience of 200 people. It doesn't seem possible, but it's so.

It doesn't seem possible, either, that Ward's Pilocarpine Hair Tonic restores color to gray hair; but it does restore it, and every time, too all the dark, rich color the hair had years ago. It stops falling of the hair also, and keeps the scalp healthy and free from dandruff.

HEALTH CONDITION HERE IS GOOD

Dr. V. D. McDowell, a medical inspector for the state board of health, who has been making a tour of the state investigating smallpox conditions, was in town yesterday. He visited the office of the county commissioners, and told the commissioners he was greatly pleased with the results of his investigations in El Paso county. There are only two cases of smallpox in the county.

"The conditions here are better than in any other county in the state," said Dr. McDowell.

BURLINGTON SAYS SPRINGS HAS 12,000

"Colorado Springs has a population of 12,000," says the Burlington railroad's pamphlet, "Colorado," of which hundreds of thousands of copies are being distributed. The difference between 12,000 and the actual population of 28,000 of this community is a matter of such importance that the chamber of commerce has called the attention of Burlington officials to the error.

Secretary McClurg wrote to J. Frances, general passenger agent of the Burlington at Omaha, notifying him of the mistake and suggesting that "erratum" slips, correcting the error, be placed in the books yet to be distributed.

Mr. Frances replied yesterday, stating the matter had been referred to Mr. Eustis, general passenger agent at Chicago.

Short Line Ready for Business Again

A weary but uncomplaining lot of passengers dismounted from Short Line train No. 8 from Cripple Creek at the Rio Grande depot last midnight. They had been sixteen hours on the way from the [illegible], most of the time being spent near Summit, where the train was delayed by annoying little landslides and drifted snow. West bound train No. 3 which left this city at 7:30 yesterday morning, met the same fate and reached Cripple Creek about the same time No. 8 pulled into Colorado Springs.

About fifty passengers on the train were supplied with food from work-trains near Summit.

The trains were the first started over the new line since Wednesday afternoon. No. 3 managed to push its way through slush, snow and small landslides until Summit was reached, when the obstructions were too much for the engine. At Summit the train crew and twenty-two passengers stayed until last night. All had plenty to eat, however, as a construction train, with supplies, was near at hand. Dinner and supper were secured easily.

Number 8 met similar obstructions and could not reach the double tracks at Summit. The passengers on this train got their meals from another work train.

It had workmen all day and until after 10 o'clock last night to clear the tracks in the mountains so the trains could pass. Meanwhile passengers and crews did what they could to put in the time.

The officials say all trains will be running over the Short Line on time today.

The breaking of a car wheel on a Midland freight train early yesterday morning near Woodland Park caused a slight wreck. Traffic was delayed for several hours.

EXCURSION RATES FOR ROUGH RIDERS REUNION

The chamber of commerce, through Secretary McClurg, is arranging railroad excursion rates for the Rough Riders' reunion, which will take place in Colorado Springs soon after President McKinley's visit. Mr. McClurg returned yesterday from Denver, where he arranged with the Santa Fe and Rio Grande railroads for one-fare rates for the round trip from points in New Mexico. The Santa Fe officials promised to arrange a satisfactory fare from points in Arizona, where many of the Rough Riders live.

President James H. McClintock, president of the Rough Riders' association, wrote a letter to the chamber of commerce several days ago, in which he urged that the railroad rates for the soldiers be made as cheap as possible, as most of them are men who cannot afford heavy expenses.

STOLE TO KEEP WARM BUT PAWNED THE COAT

"It was snowing, Judge, and I was cold."

That was the plea William Canole made yesterday when he was arraigned before Justice Ruby for stealing an overcoat from Austin Hutchinson's barn in Manitou.

"Why did you pawn it instead of wearing it?" asked the justice.

It was a poser for Canole. He was sent to the county jail for ten days.

Lee Bedford, colored, who fired four shots at J. H. Jones, Thursday pleaded guilty to an attempt to kill. Walter Smith, who urged him to shoot Jones will be given a hearing on Monday.

Justice Ruby disposed of these cases: People vs. Lee Bedford, defendant held for $600 bail for trial in district court.

People vs. Walter Smith, $400 bond for hearing April 15.

People vs. K. E. McMillen, assault and battery, set for April 16.

W. K. Sinton vs. Hubbard & Long, change of venue on motion of defendants.

In Justice Wing's court a hearing was held in the case of Barton vs. Ketels, claim of exemption. Exemption disallowed.

Walmer vs. Haynes, on change of venue from Judge Ruby, set for April 17.

STOLE A RIDE AND WILL LOSE A FOOT

While trying to beat his way on a freight train last night, Walter Hay, 20 years old, had his left foot crushed between the bumpers of two cars. The accident occurred on a Rio Grande train, north bound, at the Bijou street viaduct, about 8:30 o'clock, and the injured man was taken to St. Francis' hospital. His foot will probably be amputated.

Hay, whose home is in Mascott, Mo., had been working at the Carlton mine, as a horse-shoer. He decided to go home on a visit, and was starting the journey when he was hurt.

PHYSICIANS APPOINTED TO INVESTIGATE SANITY

W. H. Gumm, whose stepdaughter, Mrs. Reed, secured judgment against him for $65 in a justice's court, filed a petition in the county court yesterday stating that his wife, Mary Jane Gumm, formerly adjudged insane, is restored to mental strength. At the request of the petitioner, Judge Hubbard appointed two physicians, Drs. Beverley Tucker and C. F. Gardner, to investigate the woman's sanity.

Mrs. Reed, Gumm's stepdaughter, won her suit for expenses in caring for her mother, in Justice Ruby's court on Thursday.

FROM THE SANTA RITA

Ore Production by Atlantis Mines Corporation Is Chiefly From Bottom Level--Prin-Seti Development.

Special to the Gazette

Cripple Creek April [illegible] [illegible] John H H [illegible] Doctor Jack Pot Consolidated company left tonight [illegible] until the [illegible] meeting of the [illegible] tomorrow afternoon The company made an excellent production [illegible] month of March and it is thought that the profits for the thirty days will run very close to $100 000 The figures will be given out at tomorrow's meeting when [illegible] for the month of April will probably be declared The company is shipping a heavy tonnage of all grades of ore.

The Atlantis Mines Corporation operating the Santa Rita on the slope of Squaw mountain is employing three men on ore in the 30 500 and 600 foot levels of the mine Most of the ore that is being shipped is from the bottom level A consignment of [illegible] tons of [illegible] will be sent out the first of next week

Parks and Berger leasing block No 1 of the Black Belle Co's property on the summit of Beacon hill are accomplishing considerable development work in driving for the ore shoot on the 200 and 300 foot levels The lessees are also maintaining a production of excellent grade ore from the 150-foot depth A shipment of forty tons will be sent out on Tuesday The lessees have about thirty five feet of work to accomplish to reach the ore shoot in the two new levels and after this they expect to increase their output considerably

The Prin Seti company's development work on the Prin Seti claim on Gold hill is reported to be showing very encouraging results A crosscut is being run for a new vein which the lessees expect to open up in their ground The company has planned for a good deal of prospecting on a large vein which the [illegible] Exploration Tunnel company expect in running the Ophelia tunnel 400 feet below the surface

Work has been suspended on the Louisiana claim of the Ore Or No Go company on the south slope of Raven hill Contractors recently completed a fifty foot lateral from the 100 foot level The company expected to open up the Bonnie Nell vein in this work but was disappointed

The Bonnie Nell shaft has reached a depth of 360 feet and sinking will be continued to run a level at the 400 foot point A west crosscut has been driven for a distance of something over eighty five feet at the 300 foot depth The present work is in country rock and the company expects soon to encounter a vein which was exposed at the surface Good assays are being obtained in the second level of the north drift

LAST DOLLAR BUYS COMPRESSOR

Which Is to Cost About $35,000 and Will Operate Between 20 and 30 Drills--Condition of the Mine.

The directors of the Last Dollar company have decided that a new compressor is necessary to operate the mine adequately and a very large one will be immediately purchased and installed The new machine will be capable of operating between 20 and 30 drills built upon much the same plan as those which W S Stratton has bought for his properties and will cost in the neighborhood of $35 000

Since the new 1 050 level has been run out both ways and the ore has been opened up in several new places in the upper levels it has been found that the present compressor is not large enough to operate all the drills which could be very profitably employed In addition the management is now sinking the main shaft to the 1100-foot point and when that level is run in both ways more machine drills will be absolutely necessary in order to carry the work on with due celerity

The Last Dollar mine is one of the larger properties of the camp brought into notice some weeks ago by the discovery of rich ore in the bottom level The rock was very heavily incrusted with sylvanite and although the shipments are not proving that it runs into the sensational values first accredited to it at the same time it is proving to be of much greater value than any ore heretofore mined in the property

The Last Dollar company is almost a close corporation so little stock is on the open market It is composed of eastern and Denver people and its local representative is Mr F E Brooks who is on the board of directors The annual meeting of the company is to be held in Denver on April 15

GOLDEN EAGLE'S OFFICES

Located With W. A. Otis and Company--Stock Registered With the International Trust Co.--Quotations 58 at 85.

The Golden Eagle company announces that local offices will be established in this city with the firm of W A Otis and company and that Mr William P Sargeant of that firm has been appointed as assistant secretary for the company The stock of the company has been registered with the International Trust company

The Golden Eagle company of Leadville has now been called for several days in the unclassified list of the Colorado Springs Mining Stock association At first there was 70 cents bid for it with no offer Yesterday the quotation was 58 at 85 There is some interest being taken in the stock and it is thought that when it becomes more known it will be a popular trader It will eventually be included in the mines list

The Golden Eagle company has a low capitalization $500 000, and has been paying dividends for a long time being one of the best known producers in Leadville It pays one cent monthly the dividend for April having been declared a few days ago

RETURNS FROM NEW HAVEN ORE

Returns have just been received at the office of the New Haven company in this city from a shipment recently marketed from the lease of J H White on the company's Eclipse No 1 claim on Raven hill The consignment consisted of 18 tons of ore 12 of which averaged about $20 in gold to the ton, and the remaining six went $84 in gold to the ton

The ore is still coming from the new vein struck at a depth of 140 feet from the surface although this is not proving so productive now as it did when work in it was first started Drifting has been carried on for a considerable distance each way

A crosscut is being run from the 200-foot level in the new shaft up under the ore which was mined in a winze in the old workings by former lessees, but as yet nothing of value has been encountered

The lessee is doing very good work, and the property under his operations is developing nicely although there is some disappointment over the fact that developments in the 200 foot level have not revealed any ore The new vein has never been opened below the 100-foot point

RICH ORE FROM THE LITTLE FRANK S

Drifting is in progress at a depth of 100 feet in the Little Frank S property on Raven hill in a vein which is thought to be the extension of the one which has proved productive on the Joe Dandy property The assays which are now being obtained from a small streak run as high as 32 ounces in gold to the ton and the operators are pursuing energetic work hoping to encounter a good body of ore No attempt is being made to save the ore as the streak is too narrow This property was recently sold to Detroit people who are now working it on their own account The claim crosses the Eclipse No 1 of the New Haven company

REMARKABLE SUCCESS

Of a New Catarrh Cure

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names are really catarrh Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh but the throat stomach [illegible] and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages

In fact wherever there is mucous membrane there is feeding ground for catarrh

The usual remedies inhalers sprays douches or powders have been practically failures as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions without having the remotest effect upon the blood and liver which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications but from an internal remedy acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time has met with remarkable success as a genuine radical cure for catarrh

It may be found in any drug store sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets large pleasant tasting lozenges composed principally of antiseptic ingredients Eucalyptol Guaiacol Sanguinaria Hydrastin and similar catarrh specifics

Dr Ainslee in speaking of the new catarrh cure says I have tried the new catarrh remedy Stuart's Catarrh Tablets upon thirty or forty patients with remarkably satisfactory results They clear the head and throat more effectually and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates and that even a little child may use them with entire safety

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh throat or bronchial trouble catarrh of the stomach liver or bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug

STOMACH AT LAST REMOVED.

Wichman Lives After the Operation Performed in Brooklyn.

(New York Tribune)

The extraordinary operation of total gastrectomy the entire removal of a patient's stomach was successfully performed yesterday morning at the German hospital St Nicholas avenue and Stockholm street Brooklyn

Jacob Wichman nearly sixty years old came to the hospital as a charity patient and was first placed in the medical service of the hospital for treatment for stomach disorder In a short time it was seen that the case had passed beyond purely medicinal measures and that if anything was to be done for his relief it must be through surgical interference He was transferred from the medical to the surgical service The patient readily acceded to the proposal that an exploratory laparotomy be performed with the view of determining the extent of the cancerous disease and that further surgical interference might be carried out then and there if the conditions present indicated or justified such a course

The patient's friends saying he was too weak and feeble minded to judge for himself served a written request upon the authorities of the hospital that the operation not be performed

A few days ago however the patient's son visited the hospital and [illegible] signed paper in which he read the request that the surgeons do whatever they thought best in the way of surgical intervention

This no doubt was hastened by the reception by the patient of [illegible] which the writer [illegible] said that his father [illegible] of seventy had been similarly operated upon and was living [illegible] health [illegible] expected to be.

Yesterday [illegible] the patient was placed upon the [illegible] and the [illegible] the surgeon [illegible] and his assistants [illegible] form and [illegible] come into us [illegible] satisfactory [illegible] and feeble incision [illegible]

It was found that both the [illegible] entrance and the exit of the stomach were diseased This [illegible] of the complex symptoms of [illegible] the [illegible] the stomach [illegible] had gained entrance [illegible] quantity of [illegible] into the [illegible] quantity present in [illegible] disease at the point of exit The [illegible] how [illegible] demand [illegible]

The [illegible] the stomach which [illegible] in its anchorage were first tied [illegible] then divided [illegible] the points where it joins the [illegible] or second stomach [illegible] the gullet above These points were [illegible] particularly that [illegible] of the contents of the intestines [illegible] state when the stomach was finally [illegible] removed Following the removal of the stomach the intestine and gullet were joined together and secured by stitches after which the external wound was closed

The operation lasted [illegible] hours and the patient left the operating table in apparently as good condition as when he was placed upon it [illegible] a late hour last evening he was reported by the hospital authorities as doing extremely well The surgeons state that it will be necessary for the first few days [illegible] until the [illegible] sufficiently healed, so that no leakage can occur to feed the patient preternatural When proper adhesions have been formed and sufficient protection assured at the point of joining of the intestines and gullet he will be fed by the mouth with predigested food Later on he will be permitted to partake of certain food without predigestion It is said to be astonishing to what extent food can be taken up which is not predigested An explanation is that two of the most important digestive fluids namely the bile and the pancreatic juice enter the digestive tract below the stomach so that food taken is acted upon by them in the absence of the stomach and that really the only foods which could be theoretically interdicted would be those requiring pepsin for their digestion for instance meats Experience shows however that even these in the shape of meat broths are at least well borne by the patient in [illegible] instances Such for example was the case first operated upon by a surgeon in Switzerland

The difficulties in the way of forming an early estimate of the conditions present in cases of suspected cancer of the stomach has within the last year suggested that the operation of exploratory gastrotomy be performed This consists in making an incision over the stomach and examining it with the finger and if this is found insufficient to enlarge the incision bring the stomach down within reach open it and both by inspection and the sense of touch obtain a definite knowledge as to its condition It is hoped by this means that many cases of cancer of the organ may be discovered sufficiently early in the disease materially to lessen the mortality which now obtains in operations for removal of the stomach The risk attending the operation of exploratory gastrotomy are sufficiently slight to warrant its frequent employment

THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE.

Colorado Springs April 12.—The market was much better today. Not only was the trading very spirited, but prices, with few exceptions advanced noticeably. The market did not go up in streaks as had been anticipated it would but the demand seemed to be quite general, and although the recovery today was by no means equal to the loss on Wednesday the feeling is so much better that there is a very good chance for the recovery being complete in the better class of stocks within a short time. Those who have been holding off until the market should touch bottom will now undoubtedly get in as quickly as possible—indeed there was evidence of this today and the demand from now on should be entirely equal to the supply. There were however some signal instances of weakness this morning which must not be overlooked in the general contemplation of the market.

The market on the afternoon call was not as bullish as it was in the morning. The mines were weaker. Elkton closed at $1.69, El Paso 42, Golden Cycle 15, Gold Dollar 18⅜, Pharmacist active at 10½, Pointer stronger at 14¾. Portland sold at $2.97 and Work at 17½. In the preferred prospects Columbia was 12⅝, Eleanor 3¼, Missouri 10¾, and Progress 4½. In the prospects Leon was 2¼, Navajo 2¼ buyer 30. Trading was a little lighter in the unclassified department. Acacia 13⅞, Battle Mt. 22½, Echo 2, Ernestine 2¼, German-American 7¾, Gold Sovereign 6¼, Lucrative 2, National 5, buyer 30, Sedan 9, and Zoe closed at 4¼.

The sales for the day amounted to 876 130 shares, of which the cash value was $105,605.

EASTERN MARKETS.

New York, April 12.—Today's stock market was rather a tame affair as compared with the excited dealings for some time past but in [illegible] aggregate of business was nevertheless transacted and there were considerable [illegible] extremely irregular all day, recovering sharply from the opening depression but [illegible] which was heavy [illegible] below the best but with [illegible] net gains remaining for important stocks. Operations were of a highly manipulative character [illegible] have for their object to discourage the selling of stocks. No very aggressive efforts were apparent to attract renewed buying demand. Fluctuations were by no means so violent or so feverish as has been the rule of late. There were some wide gains among high priced investment stocks and some usually inactive stocks. Northwest after a preliminary decline [illegible] 4 points. St. Paul preferred [illegible] Electric [illegible] Brooklyn Union Gas [illegible] and a number of less prominent stocks from [illegible] Speculation continued active in the copper stocks and Amalgamated Copper rallied strongly from its opening loss but did not hold the advance [illegible] closing with a net rise of [illegible]

Rumors continued current regarding the status of the Burlington deal. The stock's extreme range was [illegible] and it closed with a net gain of [illegible] points. Rock Island rose [illegible] from last night's price and closed with a net gain of 4[illegible]. The New York public utilities were all strong [illegible] on account of the fixing of the date of adjournment by the legislature. The [illegible] also became strong [illegible] rise to a supposition that the danger of a strike on the New Jersey Central had been averted.

The market developed very general strength after the opening weakness which was due to some extent to selling for London account. The denials of peace negotiations with the Boers and the hardening of the money rate in London serving to depress that market. The recovery here seemed to be closely connected with the more cheerful feeling regarding the money outlook. This was not reflected in the money rate itself until most of the day's requirements had been met when belated lenders made considerable concessions in the rate of interest. It was asserted that large loans were placed here for the account of Chicago banks during the day. The preliminary estimates of the interior cash movement indicated that the balance against New York for the week was insignificant and the New York exchange at Chicago rose to 25 cents per thousand compared with 30 cents yesterday. The sub-treasury was a debtor today at the clearing house to the extent of $1,455,741, owing to large pension disbursements and a [illegible] of $500,000 made to the banks on account of Philippine army expenditures. The sub-treasury has therefore taken only about $1,000,000 from the market for the week and next week will see the high level for the month of the pension payments.

After the close of business on the stock exchange, announcement was made from Washington that the secretary of the treasury had purchased $1,000,000 of government bonds in this market. This, with the calling of loans by the banks, if it has resulted in the reduction of the loan averages will therefore have the effect of making a much less unfavorable bank statement than was apprehended. With today's payment in London of the installment on the exchequer bond and the conclusion of the stock exchange settlement there the course of the money market in the next few days is awaited to indicate its true condition.

The heaviness of the United States Steel stocks [illegible] disappointment to the speculators, as they are basing hopes on measures of protection against money stringency by large financial interests on the supposition that it is designed to support the prices of these stocks.

The price movement of bonds was irregular. Total sales, par value $2,9[illegible],000. United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

London Market.

New York, April 12.—The Commercial Advertiser's London financial cablegram:

Business slackened on the stock exchange here today and the tone was depressed because of lack of confirmation of the report that a settlement was to be had with both of the South African troubles. The American department [illegible] in sympathy with the general market but besides this general cause the bulls were nervous today over the drop in prices in New York yesterday and the fears of dearer money in Wall street. They sold steadily until in the afternoon when upon the New York opening the cables brought over unexpectedly higher prices and orders which hoisted Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Northern Pacific. Berlin also was a buyer of Northern Pacifics. Upon these two bull movements London took courage buying Eries and Atchisons. The result was a cheerful close with prices at the top. Several attempts have been made to interview Mr. Morgan. They have all proved practically futile. The bank has bought £100,000 of gold in bars. £1,000 is engaged for export to South America. Chicago Grain and Provisions.

Chicago, April 12.—May wheat scored a good advance early today, but lost it and closed ¼@⅜c lower. Other markets were rather narrow, corn and oats closing unchanged and provisions [illegible] higher.

The most influential factor in the wheat market early was the heavy export business as revealed by immense clearances from the seaboard which in wheat and flour amounted to 1,381,000 bushels. Of this 915,000 bushels represented the raw product. It did not represent new business, but it did verify the enthusiastic reports of a fortnight ago. A light domestic movement and smaller shipments from Argentina together with steady cables completed the bullish array. May opened a shade lower to unchanged at 71⅛ to 71⅜@71¼ cents and under covering by shorts and investment buying, largely for the local account, rallied during the forenoon to 71⅞@72 cents. Outside support, however, failed when longs attempted to take profits. Long wheat was offered because of the lightness of the day's export business and southwestern reports minimizing reports of injury from insects. Aside from a narrow scalping interest there was nobody to care for the offerings and May broke with considerable rapidity to 70¾@70⅞ cents and closed weak ¼@⅜ cents lower at 70⅞.

The corn market preserved its firmness but offered little of interest.

Several factors combined to make the oats market a strong one. Chief among these were an active cash demand and reports of a good shipping business.

Provisions were quiet and steady, sustained by light hog receipts, higher prices at the yards, and a fair cash demand.

The leading futures ranged as follows:

MRS. M'CLURG WAS HONORED IN DENVER

The executive committee of the Cliff Dwellings association and several other prominent club women were the guests of Mrs. B. G. Stolber of Silverton at a handsomely appointed luncheon given at the Brown Palace hotel, Denver, on Thursday.

The president of the association, Mrs. Gilbert McClurg of this city, was the guest of honor. Concerning Mrs. McClurg and her work the Rocky Mountain News of yesterday says:

Isn't Mrs. McClurg rather a wonderful woman anyway? Seeing her sitting there in her lavender satin and real lace, and remembering the social honors which were paid her in Paris, one finds it hard to imagine her in her climbing garb riding horseback along the dizzy path to the Mesa Verde hunting up Ignacio in the mountains to make a treaty with him in behalf of the club women of Colorado, sleeping out doors all night and finally pushing the plan for the park as near completion as she has. A business meeting of the association was held after the luncheon, and there was much rejoicing over the passage of the amendment in the sundry civil bill in congress which gives the sanction of the federal government to the treaty made with the Indians. Ignacio made this lease to Mrs. McClurg over a year ago to rent the Mesa Verde to the Cliff Dwellings association for $300 a year for 10 years. The lease could not be binding on the Indians until the government had confirmed it.

This is now done and the Colorado Cliff Dwellings association owns the Mesa Verde for the next 10 years. A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. C. A. Eldredge to whose persistent work in Washington the society felt that it owed the passage of the amendment. The next step is to be a wagon road to the ruins. It is positively necessary to have this if the ruins are to attract a sufficient volume of travel to make them self supporting. Mrs. McClurg has gone over the ground thoroughly and often and believes that the first absolutely necessary thing is the road. She has also already raised a fund for the road by her personal efforts.

Approximate estimates were presented for the expense varying from $400 to $1,000 according to the grade of work done. A committee was appointed to go down and go over the ground [illegible] to build the road consisting of Mrs. Whitmore, Mrs. Eldredge, Mrs. Stolber, Mrs. McClurg and Mrs. [illegible] of Durango [illegible]

[illegible]

...forever. Now with all these people interested exactly that sort of thing coming to Denver in August it may readily be surmised that there will be high jinks socially in their honor. All the college presidents in the state and their wives will be working like beavers to give the learned dons a welcome, and all the society people will pardon the duke his learning for the sake of his title. The ladies of the association would like to get a special car and take the officers of the association down to the ruins but that is yet among the mysteries of the future."

Amusements.

Otis Skinner in Prince Otto.

Otis Skinner will appear at the Opera house Tuesday evening in his new play, Prince Otto.

This season is prolific in plays that have the romantic flavor and are founded upon more or less widely read novels. "Prince Otto" was the first of the popular novels of that day to be presented in New York. The engagement at Wallack's theater for six weeks was a most successful one and "Prince Otto" was highly praised by both press and public. It is Mr. Skinner's own dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's novel by the same name and there are several thrilling situations and also touches of quaint humor in this play, and although Mr. Skinner has not followed the book closely as he found that much of the material used by Stevenson in the novel could not be utilized by him for dramatic purposes still the beauty of the leading characters and setting woven into the novel is divided into five acts, there being two scenes in the last act. They are located as follows: Act I, Farmer Leopold's cottage. Act II, the salon of the Princess Seraphina in the palace at Lauterheim, where a reception is taking place and the services of some forty people are needed. Act III, the council chamber with the council in session. Act IV, a state apartment in the palace and act V, a room in the fortress at Drachenstein and at Farmer Leopold's cottage. Mr. Skinner has given the play a most elaborate production and has surrounded himself with an excellent acting company of players.

Nathan Hale.

In "Nathan Hale," the play to be produced at the Opera house Monday evening, Mr. Clyde Fitch, the author, has given his countrymen a pretty tender version of as heroic an enterprise as we shall find in the pages of our history. It is the sanest, sweetest lesson in patriotism we have had in a long time, and in these days when patriotism is hawked about the market place, to have made it beautiful [illegible] is more is to have done something for one's country. "Nathan Hale" should appeal equally to the man in the gallery and to the woman in the parquet and no parent could combine instruction and amusement for his son or daughter in a greater degree than by taking him or her to witness this beautiful play. "Nathan Hale," according to the consensus of opinion, is not merely a string of effective incidents. It breathes throughout an undercurrent of love and patriotism. It is wholesome and inspiring. It is calculated to stir within us all the noble abstract qualities in human nature. It is an object lesson of the sublimity of self-sacrifice. But not alone does it appeal to the heroic of our nature. It is at the same time delightfully diverting [illegible] of lightsome comedy, and its beautiful love scenes are as fascinating as is the sober pathos of its tragedy. The atmosphere of the revolutionary days is faithfully preserved. By atmosphere is meant that subtle something that makes stage tableaux seem actual—that effaces the proscenium arch and lets in the blue of heaven. We seem to see the real people, doing and suffering, loving and hating, fighting and talking, as they do about us in our own lives. The playwright doesn't preach, but if he can stir men's souls with noble thoughts and inspire his hearers to noble deeds without their realizing that he is playing upon them surely he deserves well of mankind. Such a task has Mr. Fitch accomplished in Nathan Hale and the company that will give body to his work has been selected with an especial view to their fitness. Its caliber is apparent in the fact that Mr. Howard Kyle, always a clever, painstaking and conscientious actor, will be seen in the title role supported by a company of unusual merit.

Animal Friends

Ernest Seton-Thompson, the gifted naturalist and litterateur, who has delighted thousands with his absorbing stories of animal life, will give two of his unique entertainments at the Temple theater next Tuesday afternoon and evening, April [illegible]. Mr. Seton-Thompson is a man of charming personality and he lectures in a conversational way which makes his hearers feel [illegible] as if they were sitting at their firesides and he were relating to them the story of his animal friends. He is full of his subject and his soft, mellow voice seems at times inadequate to give expression to the feeling either of admiration or indignation of which it is very apparent he is possessed. He wins his audience at the outset by his confiding manner and when they leave he is sure to count them his friends and admirers. His animals are illustrated with stereopticon views mainly from photographs and sketches made by himself.

SPINACH WAS BAD—Food Inspector Custer yesterday condemned twenty pounds of spinach and ordered it destroyed. Twenty pounds of this article of food are equal to more than half a barrel, there being thirty five pounds of spinach to the barrel.

SINGERS ARE WANTED—All Sunday school superintendents and teachers are asked to urge their pupils to attend the rehearsal of the Convention chorus next Friday evening at the Y. M. C. A. About twenty five were present last night but it is expected that the number will be greatly increased from now on.

PLENTY OF SNOW—It was reported at the city hall just after the snow storm that not over two feet of snow fell at Lake Moraine and that the city might have another water famine this summer. The report was not true, however, as there was over three feet on the level and in some places it was five and six feet deep.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS—T. P. Barber, architect for the new Y. M. C. A. building, has the plans for the masonry practically completed and bids will be advertised for within a few days. He has completed two elevations for the building and the board of directors will decide upon one within a few days.

TWO UNFORTUNATES—In police court yesterday morning there were two cases up for trial before Judge Shidler. Harry Donahue was fined $5 and costs for drunkenness and disturbance and James [illegible] was assessed the same amount for vagrancy. Both were committed to jail upon the nonpayment of their fines.

BUILDING PERMITS—The building inspector yesterday issued the following permits for buildings within the city limits: J. M. Kerr to build a cottage of three rooms on lot 16, block 63, on Washington avenue in West Colorado Springs, to cost $450. A. T. Jones to build an addition of three rooms to his residence at No. 623 North Cascade avenue. Cost $600.

PIPES IN GOOD SHAPE—The superintendent of the water works and his assistants are congratulating themselves because there has not been a break in the pipes during the bad weather of the past few days. Yesterday the mains were tapped in a number of places but aside from this there has been no business in the water department.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING—The school board met last evening in adjourned session but no action was taken upon the business for which the meeting was called. The election of teachers for next year and the awarding of the contract for the construction of the Hillside school are the important questions pending. An adjournment until next Friday evening was taken.

BASEBALL POSTPONED—The baseball game which was to have been played today in Denver between Colorado college and the University of Denver has been indefinitely postponed. The academy will go to Denver today, however, to debate with the Denver university preps. The question is: Resolved, That the United States Should Grant Immediate Independence to the Filipinos. Guy Fessey and Scholefield will speak on the affirmative side of the proposition.

EASTER MUSIC REPEATED—The Easter music which was rendered at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday morning will be repeated tomorrow. "Guilmant's Communion," sung last Sunday evening, will be sung in the morning by the chorus of twenty five voices. The morning programme of last week, including solos by Miss Tucker and Miss Higgins, will be given at [illegible]. It is a science governed by principles which none but a person who has studied the ANATOMY of the EYE and the optical phenomena involved in the act of vision, can understand. Our specialist devotes his whole time to the proper fitting of the eyes.
